BRITISH TAKE DRASTIC STEPS TO SUPPRESS IRISH REVOLT

MILITARY AIR CRAFT BATTLE TWO MILES IN AIR

CONTROLS CENTER OF TROUBLE

London, April 26.—Drastic steps have been taken by the British government to suppress the uprising in Dublin by the proclamation of martial law in the city and the county and proclaiming the associations which took part in the government illegal organizations which will enable the police to break them up. This was announced today by Premier Asquith, who made a more reassuring statement with regard to the situation in the Irish capital.

The prime minister was able to say, however, that Liberty Hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Féin party and Saint Stephens Green, which seemed to have been the center of the rising, had been reoccupied by the military who were being reinforced by troops from England and Belfast.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the country of Dublin.

At the opening of the house of commons today, Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, said it was difficult to say whether any routes to Ireland were open or closed. He added that he was going there if he could make arrangements.

The following telegram was received in London today from Lord Wimborne, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, dated Dublin:

"The situation is satisfactory. Sinn Féin has been occupied. Eleven insurgents have been killed. The Provincial news is reassuring."

New York, April 26.—The revolt in Ireland far exceeds in extent the admissions of the British government according to information reported today to have been received in Irish circles in this city. A force of about 10,000 rebels is opposing the British government authorities in Dublin and neighboring Irish counties, it was asserted. The reports had it that John MacNeill, leader of the Irish volunteers, had been shot.

HELD AS HOSTAGE BY UNKNOWN PARTY

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, today received and passed to the state department a communication declaring that any treatment of Sir Cecil other than that of a prisoner of war of the highest rank, would be a sentence of death against him and other English envoys in this country.

Paris, April 26.—A French aeroplane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 4,000 metres off Zeebrugge today. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin, which appears to have been damaged. The engagement, occurring more than two miles above the earth, was fought at three o'clock this morning. At the same time another French aeroplane armed with cannon, fired numerous projectiles on a German torpedo boat off Ostend. A German aeroplane of the Fokker type was brought down in an aerial combat near Luneville, France.

ORGANIZATION MEN ELECT CANDIDATES IN PRIMARY TUESDAY

Columbus, O., April 26.—Returns received today from the larger cities of Ohio made certain the election of the organization candidates for delegates-at-large to both the Republican and Democratic National Conventions at yesterday's presidential preference primaries. Although it was the first election under the new primary law, less than one-fourth the voters in the cities went to the polls, while in the rural precincts only ten per cent of the vote was cast.

Former Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, received the Republican vote on the presidential preference ballots, while President Wilson, without opposition on the printed ballots, was designated as the popular choice of the Democrats. William Grant Webster, Chicago attorney whose name had been entered inadvertently as a candidate for president on the Republican ballot, instead of vice president, received less than ten per cent of his party's vote.

A few voters wrote the names of their favorites on the ballots. The number of those who did this was small and is considered of little importance.

Newark, O., April 26.—The local election board is debating today what action shall be taken regarding the failure of election officials in north precinct, Hanover township, which made a record in yesterday's primary by failing to register a single vote. The precinct officials probably will be discharged.

Compulsion May Be Required In England

London, April 26.—Premier Asquith, at the secret session of parliament yesterday, presented on behalf of the government, proposals for shadowing general military compulsion unless success attended "immediate efforts to obtain men required by voluntary enlistment from amongst unattested married men."

"The government," Mr. Asquith said, "will forthwith ask parliament for compulsory power," unless at the end of four weeks, ending May 27, 50,000 men have been secured by voluntary enlistment. The same course is proposed in any one week after May 27, 15,000 men have not been secured by direct enlistment. These arrangements are to hold good until 200,000 unattested men have been attained.

Afterwards, conferees on the part of the senate and house were appointed.

The bill is the senate substitute for the Hay army measure passed by the house. In view of the material difference between the two measures it is expected considerable time will be required before a conference agreement can be reached.

OPINION DIVIDED IN GERMANY

Berlin, April 26.—Public opinion in Germany respecting the American note, remains divided in two main directions. One represented by Count Ernest von Reventlow, the naval expert of the Tages Zeitung, and his adherents, which is small but vociferous and powerful, continues to assert it would welcome a breach with America with a feeling of relief. ## ATTITUDE ON ARMED SHIPS DEFINED BY THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., April 26.—A statement defining the attitude of the United States toward armed merchant ships was made public today by the state department by direction of President Wilson. It originally was prepared as a circular note to other powers, but it later was decided to issue it as a statement.

The statement holds to the right of a merchant ship to arm for protection only, but declares that "merchants which have used their armaments for aggressive purposes are not entitled to the same hospitality in neutral ports as peaceable armed merchantmen."

"The status of an armed merchant vessel of a belligerent," says the statement, "is to be considered from the point of view of a neutral when the vessel enters its ports and from that of an enemy when the vessel is on the high seas."

The statement treats at length of these differences in status and sums them up as follows: "The status of an armed merchant vessel as a war ship in neutral waters may be determined, in the absence of documentary proof or conclusive evidence of previous aggressive conduct, by presuming from all the circumstances of the case." The status of such vessels as a warship on the high seas must be determined only on conclusive evidence of aggressive purpose in the absence of which it is to be presumed that the vessel has a private and peaceable character and it is so treated by an enemy war ship.

Billy Butt-In Thru Weather Man

Now that the wintry days are about over I reckon the 'sweat' things will soon be donning their summer hats again. There's no such thing as getting 'something' for nothing—even at a free show one is expected to buy a bottle of medicine or something. Here's my hope for tomorrow:

Ohio—Overcast tonight and Thursday. Probably rains to-night. Continued cool.

Kentucky—Overcast and continued cool weather tonight and Thursday.

West Virginia—Overcast and continued cool weather tonight and Thursday. Probably rain to-night.

Mary Pickford in "Poor Little Peppina", the greatest picture of her career at the Lyric Tomorrow and Friday

There has never been a more conclusion, when restored to her wholesome, more interesting or a parents she is seen garbed as a more artistic picture offering in young woman of wealth, Miss town than the Pickford master. Pickford is at her best. It is a piece which will be shown at the all-round characterization, one Lyric tomorrow and Friday, that will be enjoyed by the play.

"Poor Little Peppina" is a picture that contains strong interest all the way, with abundance of action and relevant incident. The story, which was written by Kate Jordan, gives to Miss Pickford the kind of role in which she has found her greatest success. The shows will start promptly at one o'clock and run continuously through supper hour, the last showing starting about 10 p. m. thus affording a chance for everybody to get in to see it. The same program will be followed on Friday. The admission will be 10c to all and 15c to the afternoon and in the evening. Remember this is an exceptional her fosterbrother's clothes; in offering at this low admission as America buffeted by fate in the this picture is a regular 25c at shape of counterfeiters, and in the traction.

"In return I give you my wife—you've always had her—now she's yours."—Scene from "The Ne'er Do Well" in which Kathlyn Williams Scores the Triumph of Her Career.

In years of dramatic observation I have not seen a more adult, a more finished piece of acting than Kathlyn Williams as Edith Cortlandt in Selig's ten-act screen version of Rex Beach's "The Ne'er-Do-Well," which comes to the Lyric Theater next week.

As a masterful, reproofful study, so faultless in deportment that no censor can reasonably delete a foot of her as a study, completely with in every bound of decorum, yet Kathlyn Williams as Edith Cortlandt in Selig's ten-act screen version of Rex Beach's "The Ne'er-Do-Well," which comes to the Lyric Theater next week.

Viola Dana, featured in Edson's marvellous photo drama "Children of Eve" released through Kleine-Edison Feature Service, to be offered at the Columbia tonight, sustains in this film production her reputation as a finished actress, earned while a star in speaking roles in legitimate drama. Her splendid achievement in the leading role of "The Poor Little Rich Girl" heralded as Miss Dana's best work on the stage, is fully equalled if not surpassed by her in "Children of Eve." Her complete mastery over her lines, grasp of situations and her delineation of minute details in hand—but it is a gold one with a this screen production, establish conclusively her adaptability for a film work. "Children of Eve" bristles with tense situations, which afford this accomplished a star excellent opportunity to rise to her natural plane.

"Children of Eve" is typically a story dealing with passions and emotions of persons, the prototype of whom we meet every day, and consequently it appeals strongly. In addition to this great picture, the first number of a series of the famous "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons will be shown this evening.

At The Strand
"Her Greatest Story," two part Laramie drama features Myrtle Gonzalez and Fred Church. Mazie is "sister" on a large daily paper.

WILD ALL THROUGH.

The American Bay Lynx is an Animal That Can't Be Tamed. We call him the American wildcat, although he is of a different species from the wildcat of Europe. His real name is bay lynx, and he is closely associated with that other animal of America, the Canadian lynx. The European wildcat is really the ancestor of the domestic cat, but you can't domesticate the bay lynx of America. He is wild all the way through.

He gets his front name from his color, which is a yellowish brown or bay. His tail is short, which has given him another name—bobcat. Unlike most cats, he is a good swimmer, and his hind feet are partly webbed.

The bay lynx frequents mountainous woodlands in the less settled portions of America, and sometimes he makes his presence known by his raids on poultry. He is also a persistent robber of birds' nests, and he will eat both birds and eggs. He will also devour squirrels, rabbits, wild turkeys and anything that isn't too big for him to kill.

His appetite for animals has led people to fear him, although he will seldom attack human beings only when he thinks he has to defend himself. He usually builds a nest of moss and leaves in a hollow tree—Philadelphia North American.

SCIENCE OF NOSES.

In Size and Shape, It Is Said, Is Shown the Wearer's Character.

Neurography reveals the character, habits and inclinations of people by a simple inspection of noses. According to the system, the nose should be as long as possible, and this is a sign of merit, power and genius. Examples—Napoleon and Caesar, both of whom had large noses. A straight nose denotes a just, serious and energetic mind, the Roman nose a propensity for adventure and a wide nose with open nostrils is a mark of great sensuality. A cleft nose shows benevolence. It was the nose of St. Vincent de Paul.

The curved fleshy nose is a mark of domination and cruelty. Catherine de Medici and Elizabeth of England had noses of this kind. The curved thin nose, on the contrary, is a mark of a brilliant mind, but vain and disposed to be ironical. It is the nose of a dreamer, a poet or a critic. If the line of the nose is retreating—that is, if the nose is turned up—it denotes that its owner has a weak mind, sometimes coarse, and generally playful, pleasant and frolicsome. A pale nose denotes egotism, envy, heartiness. The quick, passionate, sanguine man has a strongly colored nose of uniform shade.—London Tit-Bits.

A Great Military Feat. Nonza, in Corsica, is very proud of the story of a great military feat performed there long ago. It is told in "Romantic Corsica," by George Rieuwick.

The French in 1768 had subjugated all the northern cape with the exception of the tower of Nonza, which for a considerable time sustained a driven back by a fierce fire, but at last the garrison agreed to surrender if allowed to march out with all the honors of war. This was conceded, and old Captain Casaccia appeared, staggering under a load of muskets and pistols. "Why is the garrison so long in coming out?" asked the French commander. "It is here, sir," replied Casaccia. "I am the garrison."

Needs No Lightning Rod. A building 5000 feet above sea level should be protected by lightning rods, one thinks, but the astronomical observatory at Mount Eliza has not and does not need such protection. The observatory is near the summit of the volcano, and the stream of vapor constantly rising from the crater acts as a natural conductor, draining the electricity out of the clouds, so that lightning is seldom seen there.

Lieutenant Dice Active In Securing Recruits For U. S. Army In New York

The New York Tribune a few days ago contained quite a writeup of the activities of Captain Lou Dice, an old Portsmouth boy, in gathering recruits for the U. S. army.

Capt. Dice, who is the youngest son of Liveryman John Dice, of this city is in charge of the U. S. recruiting office in the metropolis. He has been moving over the city in an automobile decorated with the national colors making speeches in which he calls upon young men to enlist for service in Uncle Sam's army. It is hoped to recruit 25,000 men in New York alone.

"Back talk" on the part of Dora Kountz-Durphy, a portly colored woman, cost her just ten dollars in police court, Wednesday morning.

The disorderly charge against the woman had been dismissed by

Thin Folks Who Want To Get Fat

Increase In Weight Ten Pounds or More

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to put on a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, which the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid assimilative agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Fisher & Streich pharmacy and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

Mayor Kaps with the understanding that she remain away from the home of Celia Nichols, of Thirteenth street, which was the scene of an exciting fight Tuesday afternoon. "That's my sister and I'll go to her home when I feel like it," said she or words to that effect. "What's that you said?" demanded the mayor. "She's my sister and nobody can keep me from visiting her so long as she wants me to," retorted the woman.

"I might send you to some other house, too," threatened the mayor. "Well, it won't be forever, anyway," again snapped Dora.

"All right you're determined to disregard the orders of the court so I'll just fine you $10," said the mayor.

He told the woman and her companions that he did not wish to work any hardship upon them but was determined to separate them for they seemed to be a bunch of scoundrels, he explaining that he could have tried them on charges of running a disorderly house and fined them heavily. "Well, you would have gotten Charley then too," said Mrs. Durphy in referring to her husband, who had caused the arrests. She wanted him kept away from her, declaring he did not support her. Durphy, who is employed at the Bank cafe, denied this, saying he had given her $25 in the past three weeks. He also wanted the mayor to assist him in warning the public against giving her any further credit under his name but the mayor concluded the case pending further developments. Belle Sharp, who had a hand in the mixup which occurred in her front room, was also fined $10.

It appeared that when Durphy dropped into the home and found the women together Belle began telling of having seen him in the company of another woman. This angered his wife and hot words ensued. Durphy wanted his wife to leave but she refused and calling the Sharp woman a name for which she pushed him out doors he jerked his wife off the porch, she landing on the flat of her back. When Celia came to her assistance he turned on her. All three women now piled on him, throwing flower pots, dishes, glassware besides scratching him furiously.

COUNTY NEWS

Mrs. Emma Slaven, of Wakefield, was a guest at the Washington Hotel, Tuesday.

Clyde Brant, of the J. H. Brant Company, Lucasville, left Tuesday evening for Columbus, on a short business trip.

David Cheatwood, a local sage, claims many things for the farmers this spring and summer. Mr. Cheatwood says:

"There has been more rainfall in the past eleven months than there has been for years. The hardest weather we have had was in the month of February and March."

"I got three hundred chickens which were hatched out when the weather was below zero. I set the hens in nests made of corn silks and placed pieces of paper in the bottom of the nest. Then I sprinkled a small amount of soft ed ashes in the nest to kill the vermin."

"We are going to have from six to seven months of droughts. The conditions will be worse in the northern and western part of the country. Ohio will be favored more than any other state. The sun has been farther away than it has been for years. Get on low lands for good crops this spring and summer."

"All people planting potatoes should put them under straw. It is going to be dry and moisture will be preserved under straw."

"We will have dogwood winter and 'sheep storms' between May 3 and May 15. This is the latest spring we have had for years."

The pupils of Ball school, in Green township, will long remember Monday, April 24th, 1916. Not only as the closing of the school year, but as a day of feasting, rejoicing, merry-making and entertaining to commemorate the closing of one of the most successful school years of the old school. The teacher Miss Clara Gleim, had the pupils bring their parents and friends to help enjoy the festivities.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large number braved the elements and once more came back to school. They were more than pleased with their visit, for a routine of entertainment had been prescribed for the day. The morning was spent at the school house and was taken up by music, recitations and conversation. After spending a few hours in this method, a feeling of a great appetite as only a farmer's son or daughter knows, came over them.

The parents knowing it was to be an all day session brought well filled baskets with them. The weather by this time had warmed

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS
Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, money, "I don't worry because I want to, I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about." We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive, but he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case exactly. I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic, particularly suited for nervous, neurasthenic people. Your druggist sells them or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

TRY, TRY, AGAIN ADAGE WINS OUT

The Stronger Never Say Die, While the Weaker Become Disheartened

The old adage, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," has worked wonders for most of us. Some time in the lives of everyone we imagine things are going against us. The weaker become discouraged and give up, while the stronger face this great game of life with staunch hearts, clear brains and steady hands, and with this good old adage as their slogan.

Probably more persons become discouraged over continued ill health than from any other cause. The records of every city will bear this out. Others, who probably suffered as much physical pain and agony as their mentally weaker brothers, will not give up the fight, but will do all in their power to gain relief.

Difficulties are the test of the man. Hundreds of people testify daily that they had suffered years of torture and agony from stomach or kindred troubles and had tried everything before they heard of Tanlac. These people did not "give up the ship" after the first remedy failed to cure them. When they heard of the wonders that Tanlac, the new reconstructive tonic, was working, they did not lose this opportunity to be aided simply because other preparations had failed. It is this "stick-to-it-iveness" that has won happiness for thousands.

The truth of this is clearly brought out by the fact that business men, professional men, artists and women, too, in all walks of life, whose common, practical judgment guides them in all acts and conclusions, are daily testifying to the merits of Tanlac.

Improper food, poor digestion, over eating and lack of healthful exercise have cut short the lives of thousands from the lowest to the highest in the land. Tanlac, the famous vegetable preparation, has proven invaluable for stomach troubles, which after all, are the base of most ills. Tanlac overcomes poor digestion, restores normal appetite, brings good restful sleep, and banishes that tired, nervous feeling—in short, it restores the stomach to the habit of doing a full day's work and doing it well.

Tanlac, the ideal reconstructive tonic, is being especially introduced in Portsmouth at The Fisher & Sterich Pharmacy, where the Tanlac Man daily explains its merits and what may be expected from its use.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns: New Boston, E. H. Coburn; Sciotoville, Sciotoville Pharmacy; Bloomsville, H. J. Gleim; Scioto, Stockham & Payne; McDermott, Ord Thompson; Lucasville, Dr. J. H. Cox; Stockdale, O. E. Emory & Co.; Jasper, J. W. Dewey; Pickett, R. B. Wilson; Oak Hill, Jenkins Pharmacy; Otway, J. T. Walsh; Young, G. H. Perry; Peebles, W. A. Gall; Buena Vista, Louis Dorn; West Union, W. D. Satterfield; Fullerton, Ky., S. M. Roberson; Rarden, Taylor & Taylor.—Adv.

considerably and the sun was shining bright, so they decided to leave the old school house, and journeyed eastward to a large oak grove to work revenge upon the preparations provided to quiet that peculiar inward sensation. The tables, of which there was quality as well as quantity, were spread upon a snow-white cloth intruded about with an embroidery of dark green, provided by Mother Nature.

The teacher, pupils and parents seated themselves about this on the green grass and enjoyed it in real picnic fashion. After the dinner was cleared away, they engaged in games of different kinds until "time" compelled them to depart and go back to the building. Here the pupils were given their reports of the year's work and after a talk by the teacher, were turned out from under her care.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y.—"For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation."—Mrs. John A. Koenig, 602 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were avoided and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Thousands of people have seen and walked on our Whittall Rug which is spread across the sidewalk in front of our store. The rug is still there and will remain there for a week. No it was not taken in today when it rained. People walked across it just the same. Dirt and rain can't hurt a rug like this as we will show you after this week of wear and grind is over.

B. & O. S-W. Plan To Make Wellston Freight Terminals

Wellston, April 26—Wellston is surely coming to its own. It may be slowly, but it is inevitable. The Daily Sentinel takes the very great pleasure to announce one of the precursors signs of this coming—that is the cheerful news that comes to us this afternoon. It is this, The B. & O. S. W. will make Wellston a freight terminal. The plan as given to the Sentinel, is to annul the Hamden terminal so far as the Portsmouth division is concerned and route freights over the C. H. & D. to Byer for the main line. This is said to have been brought about by the increased business on the Portsmouth branch and the fact that the company has one thousand feet of track and more including the C. H. & D. sidings in the Wellston yards where heavy trains may be made up and routed with dispatch.

This order will cause many freight crews and families to locate here and add much to the commercial as well as the social life of the city.

It is predicted by those who should know, that soon in the future Wellston will also be made a passenger terminal for the line that will reach Tronton, cross the Ohio bridge and extend beyond to connect with the B. & O. line that runs out from Shelby to the Consolidated coal fields beyond. It is said that the improvement of the tunnels between Wellston and the river has this in view, and the extension of this line will make a division of 165 miles.

The yards of Wellston have recently been improved and the order is given for work on the C. H. & D. trackage beginning this week.

It means a revival of prosperity hereabouts.

As was expected, the "regulars," those candidates for state and national delegates who had been previously endorsed by the committees of both the Republican and Democratic parties, won out handsomely in the primaries held in Portsmouth and Scioto county, Tuesday. While in some instances the candidates who were known as the "mugwumps," made a fine showing, nevertheless, in practically every precinct, the "regulars" completely "snowed" their opponents, despite the fact that in no instance was the strength of the two parties manifested at the polls.

Basing the total votes cast by those received by the highest candidates, the Republicans cast 130 votes in Scioto county, this vote being received by Ex-Senator Theodore Burton, candidate for the nomination of president, Senator Warren G. Harding, one of the candidates for delegate-at-large, received the second highest number of votes, 122.

President Wilson, who led the Democratic ticket as candidate for president, received a total of 550 votes. Harry E. Taylor, editor of the Portsmouth Daily Times, was second on the ticket, receiving a total of 493 votes. Mr. Wood of Brown county, made an equally fine showing in his home county, where he faced a hard fight and leading his ticket with the splendid total of 613 votes.

The primary passed off without the slightest hitch or jar, and while party workers on both sides manifested much vigilance, yet it seemed impossible to get out a heavy vote. However, it is thought Scioto county did fully as well in this respect as the other counties in the state. Not much more than one-fifth of the strength of the two parties was represented at the polls.

Interest in the primary, so far as Portsmouth was concerned, was centered in the selection of delegates to the national convention from the sixth congressional district. Both parties faced exactly the same proposition. It will be recalled that some time since, the Republican and Democratic committees met here, with a full representation from every county in the district. At that time the Republican committee endorsed George L. Davis, of Portsmouth and Frank J. McCafferty, of Georgetown, as delegates to the convention. Later, J. Robert Stivers, of Georgetown, announced himself as a delegate and his name was printed upon the ballots. When the Democratic committee throughout the district met here, Harry E. Taylor, editor of the Daily Times, and John Wood, of Georgetown, were endorsed as delegate from this congressional district to the national convention. However, Charles W. Pearson, of Georgetown, conceived the idea of running as delegate. Both he and Mr. Stivers were badly worsted by the "regulars." In this county Mr. Pearson received 172 votes, Mr. Wood 230 and Editor Taylor 493. The vote for the Republican candidates follows: Davis, 1161; McCafferty, 819, and Stivers, 287. This same ratio, judging from the reports so far received, was maintained throughout the district. The vote on the Democratic delegates in Brown follows: Wood, 613; Taylor, 538; Pearson, 502. Messrs. Taylor and Wood received more than 5 to 1 votes over Pearson in Pike county.

Considerable interest was also manifested in the case of Governor Frank B. Willis, one of the candidates for delegates at large on the Republican ticket. Word had gone throughout the state that if the governor made a sorry showing he would be met with opposition for re-nomination at the August primaries. Considering the fact that Governor Willis' name appeared last on the list he made a fine showing in Scioto county, running second to Senator Harding, and far outstepping his colleagues, Messrs. Proctor and Sullivan. The governor received a total of 1046 votes against $76 for Proctor and $10 for Sullivan. Schuyler O. Griffin, who headed the ticket as the "irregulars" candidate for delegate at large, received 370 votes in the county. Griffin had the outspoken backing of several secret organizations throughout the state.

Some rather unique incidents show forth as a result of the primary. In some instances they were the result of ignorance or carelessness. Some ballots were cast with but a single cross at the head of the ticket. Others would be the only vote for one candidate where others were entitled to vote for two or more.

In some instances both the names of President Wilson and Hon. Theo. Burton, presidential preference candidates respectively on the Democratic and Republican tickets, were crossed out and the name of Henry Ford or Theodore Roosevelt written in. In precinct E of the Second ward, Mr. Ford received six votes, while "President Wilson" received but 8 votes. In Porter township Mr. Roosevelt received four votes. Mr. Burton receiving 32. This would indicate that the progressive spirit is still smoldering in some.

In Brown county the fight in both the Democratic and Republican camps for congressional delegates to the national convention was quite warm. As stated above, Messrs. Taylor and Wood carried the county over their opponent, Mr. Pearson, the vote being: Wood, 613; Taylor, 538, and Pearson, 502. In Republican circles the "irregular" candidate, Mr. Stivers, led his opponents, Messrs. Davis and McCafferty, in Brown county, the vote being as follows: Davis, 242; McCafferty, 242, and Stivers, 249.

In Adams county the vote was quite light in both political parties. At three o'clock the vote had not been completely tabulated. S. O. Griffin, "irregular" candidate for delegate at large, received 66 votes. Harding polled 372 votes and Willis 257. For congressional delegates the vote was as follows: Davis, 213; McCafferty, 128; Stivers, 132. On the Democratic side the result was as follows for congressional delegates: Taylor, 256; Wood, 171; Pearson, 170.

In Pike county, with practically all returns in, the vote for delegates to the national convention from this district stood as follows: Taylor, 263; Wood, 231, and Pearson, 51. Mr. Taylor carried every county in the district by large majorities. On the Republican side Messrs. Davis and McCafferty are easily elected. Mr. Davis will lead his colleague, Mr. McCafferty. Mr. Stivers carried both Adams and Brown county, but lost the others by a large vote.

CLERMONT COUNTY
At 3:30 this afternoon the Times received the following vote from Clermont county: Delegates at large on the Democratic ticket: Campbell, 319; Cox, 332; Harmon, 314; Pomerene, 267.

Delegates to the national convention from this congressional district: Democrat, Taylor, 268; Woods, 247; Pearson, 153; Republican, McCafferty, 606; Davis, 606; Stivers, 107.

Paganini's Playing.
The sensation made by Paganini was due not alone to his almost superhuman command over the technical difficulties of his instrument, but to his extraordinary personality as well as to certain tricks of performance which he shared with no other virtuoso of his time. It was generally believed in the days in which Paganini thrived his listeners that he was in league with the powers of evil, and so widespread was this conviction that the violinist actually published in 1828 a letter from his mother which was intended to prove not only that he was of ordinary mortal birth, but that his parent was altogether on the side of the good angels.—Argonaut.

King Alfred's Bugle.
The most interesting of all bugles is the famous "blowing stone," first used by Alfred the Great to signal his troops on the field of Ashdown. It is in the historic Vale of the White Horse, in Berkshire, England, and is a mass of sandstone so curiously pierced with holes that when blown it emits a loud, clear call. The sound travels over the meadows, through the woods of the river Ock, echoing among the White Horse hills and down to King Alfred's camp on the southern slope, and back to Wayland Smith's cave, where the smith lived, whom no one ever saw, who stood the travelers' horses left at his door.—London Spectator.

Royal Nicknames.
William I. of England was William the Conqueror. He conquered Harold and became king of the first Norman dynasty that gave England four rulers. His father was Robert the Devil. Leopold I. of Germany was called the Little Man in Red Stockings. Junius, friend of Philip the Fair, was the Mad Queen. James IV. of Scotland was the Just. James IV. of the same country was called King of the Iron Belt. Charles the Great of France, son of Pepin the Short, extended the limits of the empire from the Baltic to the Mediterranean and from the bay of Biscay to the coast of Italy. His son was known as Louis the Pious.

"The Bridge" Born of Sorrow.
"My poem entitled 'The Bridge,' at Longfellow, was written in sorrow, which made me feel for the loneliness of others. I was a widower at the time, and I used sometimes to go over the bridge to Boston evenings to meet friends and return near midnight by the same way. The way was so dark, save here and there a belated motorist. The sea rose or fell among the wooden piers, and there was a faint furnace on the Brighton hills, whose red light was reflected by the waves. It was on such a late, solitary night that the spirit of the poem came upon me. The bridge has been greatly altered, but the place of it is the same."

ATTITUDE ON ARMED SHIPS

tion that an armed merchant vessel of belligerent nationality is armed for aggression while a belligerent should proceed on the presumption that the vessel is armed for protection. Both of these presumptions may be overcome by evidence—the first by secondary or collateral evidence, since the fact to be established is negative in character. The second by primary and direct evidence, since the fact to be established is positive in character.

The statement lays down the rule that while merchant men armed only for protection against the enemy are entitled to enter and leave neutral ports without hindrance in the course of legitimate trade, they are not so entitled under certain circumstances.

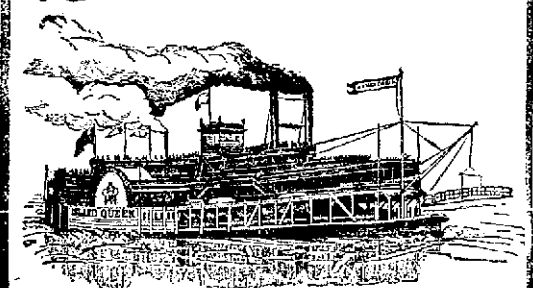

The statement is about 2,500 words long and is intended to set forth in the language of international law the precepts by which the United States will be governed in its action in any circumstances growing out of the naval warfare of the European belligerents. It will have far-reaching bearing upon submarine operations.

Secretary Lansing announced in connection with publication of the statement that the United States has reiterated to Great Britain its request for the orders of the admiralty to British merchant captains, which Germany alleges order destruction of the submarines. The terms of the orders will have a bearing on the administration of the new principles.

Secretary Lansing also announced that copies of the statement had been delivered to the embassies and legations of all foreign powers in Washington, so they may be fully advised of the future policy of the United States in dealing with the subject.

the significance. The name of Henry Ford leads those written on. Both Republicans and Democrats wrote in his name. Theodore Roosevelt and Charles E. Hughes followed Mr. Ford in order. A few votes were made out for Eliza Root and Charles W. Fairbanks on the Republican ticket and William J. Bryan and Champ Clark on the Democratic ticket.

The Republicans elected as delegates-at-large Senator Warren G. Harding, Governor Frank B. Willis, John J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, and Col. William Cooper Proctor, of Cincinnati. Dr. S. O. Griffin, of Columbus, Matt Gleser, of Cincinnati, and Ralph W. Tyler, negro, of Columbus, all opposed to the regular candidates, were defeated decisively.

The Democratic delegates-at-large were elected in the following order: Former Governor James M. Cox, former Governor James E. Campbell, former Governor Judson Harmon and Senator Atlas Pomerene.

Frank S. Monnett, of Columbus, anti-Wilson candidate, received a substantial vote, the returns indicated. His vote will approximate two-thirds of the Pomerene vote.

Local bond issues brought many voters to the polls in some cities. In most instances these issues carried.

State totals on yesterday's vote were not available today. It was said at the secretary of state's office so little doubt remained concerning the election results, that county election officials probably will not certify their reports until tomorrow.

SELECT COMMISSION
Tiffin, O., April 26.—By a light vote, Tiffin voters yesterday chose a commission of 15 to frame a new city charter. Stahl, of Fremont, and Wenner, of Tiffin, were chosen delegates to the Republican National convention.

BOND ISSUE BEATEN
Toldeo, April 26 Toledo's proposed bond issue of $100,000 was decisively defeated at yesterday's primary election. About 25 per cent of the registered vote was cast. Democrats elected John Bohn and Smith L. Welch, and Republicans Noah H. Swayne and John X. Willys as delegates to the National convention from the Ninth district.

MASS. WILL SEND UNPLEDGED DELEGATES
Boston, April 26.—Thirty-two of the 36 delegates chosen in the presidential primaries yesterday to represent Massachusetts in the Republican National Convention at Chicago, are pledged to any candidate for president. These include the four delegates-at-large, Governor Samuel W. McCall, Senators Henry Cabot Lodge, and John W. Weeks, and former Senator W. Murray Crane. The remaining four delegates chosen from the Ninth and Fourteenth congressional districts are understood to favor the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt. A revision of the figures for the entire state today showed the following vote for delegates-at-large:

Unpledged Ticket: Samuel W. McCall, 62,773; Henry Cabot Lodge, 61,332; John W. Weeks, 58,568; W. Murray Crane, 59,185.

Roosevelt Ticket: Charles S. Bird, 46,209; Grafton D. Cushing, 46,255; August H. Garber, 45,495; Robert M. Washburn, 42,757.

The total vote was slightly less than one-half of that cast for Governor McCall at the state election last fall.

The Democratic delegates-at-large were chosen without opposition. They are former Governor David I. Walsh, former Congressman Joseph H. O'Neill, Charles B. Streicker and Humphrey O'Sullivan. The few contests for Democratic district delegates were purely personal.

All of the Democrats favor the nomination of President Wilson.

COLUMBUS WILL HAVE TO RETRENCH

Columbus, O., April 26.—City officials announced today that because Columbus voters yesterday disapproved six of the proposed bond issues, it will be necessary to reduce the police and fire departments by one-third for a part of the year, close the public library during summer months, dismiss a number of city employees, and abandon plans for street improvements and sewer building. West side wards, which will have to stand most of the cost for flood protection plans, must heavy votes against the bond issues.

BOND ISSUE CARRIED
Port Clinton, O., April 26.—The six thousand dollar bond issue for enlarging the Danbury ship school house, carried yesterday.

TO ATTACK PEKING
San Francisco, April 26.—A rebel advance on Peking, the capital of China, has been ordered by the Chinese revolutionists, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the Chinese republic association here today.

DRUMMED UP VOTES
Wooler, O., April 26.—Paul Ibrag, tried "drumming up votes" yesterday. Using a bass drum, he marched up and down the streets, creating a loud noise which attracted attention, but failed to get more than twelve voters to the polls.

18 POUNDS OF BLOOD
Is the average quantity in a healthy adult, but it is the quality of the blood that determines our strength to resist sickness. With weak blood we find cold hands and chilly feet; increased aversion to study, and in adults rheumatic tendencies.

In changing seasons get abundant fresh air and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals, because Scott's Emulsion is a rich blood-forming and increases both quantity and quality of the blood while it warms the body and helps carry off the impurities.

When multitudes of people are today taking Scott's Emulsion to ward off winter sickness, and are giving their children, it is because of its benefits. Look out for substitutes.

Increase Also Is Shown In Manufacturing; Other Statistics Given In Bulletin Just Issued.

Government Report Gives Portsmouth Estimated Population Of 28,000 In 1914

Washington, D. C. April 26.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the census of manufacturing for Portsmouth, Ohio, has been issued by Director Sam L. Rogers, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. It consists of a summary comparing the figures for 1909 and 1914, by totals, prepared under the direction of Mr. William M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufacturing.

The figures are preliminary and subject to such change and correction as may be found necessary from a further examination of the original reports.

The census of 1914, like that of 1909, with reference to manufacturing, excluded the hand trades, the building trades, and the neighborhood industries, and took account only of establishments conducted under the factory system. In the last census, also, as in that for 1909, statistics were not collected for establishments having products for the census year valued at less than $500, except that reports were taken for establishments idle during a portion of the census year, or which began operation during that year, and whose products for such year were valued at less than $500.

The word "establishment" as used in the census reports may mean more than one mill or plant, provided they are owned or controlled and operated by a single individual, partnership, corporation, or other owner or operator, and are located in the same town or city.

The reports were taken for the calendar year ending December 31, 1914, wherever the system of bookkeeping permitted figures for that period to be secured, but when the fiscal year of an establishment differed from the calendar year a report was obtained for the operations of that establishment for its fiscal year falling most largely within the calendar year 1914.

Percentages of Increase
The population of Portsmouth, at the census of 1910 was 23,431, and it is estimated that it was 28,000 in 1914.

The statistics represent the establishments located within the corporate limits of the city.

With the exception of slight decreases in the number of salaried employees, wage earners, and salaries, the summary shows an increase at the census of 1914 as compared with that for 1909. In the order of their importance from a percentage standpoint the increases for the several items rank as follows: Primary horsepower, 26.6 per cent; wages, 20 per cent; capital, 17.7 per cent; proprietors and firm members, 11.1 per cent; value of products 5.6 per cent and materials, 4.8 per cent.

Capital Invested

The capital invested, as reported in 1914, was $7,515,000, a gain of $1,130,000 or 17.7 per cent, over $6,385,000 in 1909. In this connection it should be stated that the inquiry contained in the census schedule calls for the total amount of capital, both owned and borrowed, invested in the business, but excludes the value of rented property, plant, or equipment which was employed in the conduct of manufacturing enterprises. In the final bulletins and reports the rental paid for such property will be shown separately.

Cost of Materials

The cost of materials used was $4,079,000 in 1914, as against $3,894,000 in 1909, an increase of $185,000, or 4.8 per cent. In addition to the component materials which enter into the products of the establishment for the census year there are included the cost of fuel, mill supplies, and rent of power and heat. The cost of materials, however, does not include bought materials and supplies brought either for speculation or for use during a subsequent period.

The census inquiry does not include amounts paid for miscellaneous expenses, such as rent of offices, royalties, insurance, ordinary repairs, advertising, traveling expenses or allowance for depreciation.

Value of Products

The value of products was $7,082,000 in 1914 and $7,277,000 in 1909, the increase being $405,000, or 5.6 per cent.

The value of products represents their selling value or price at the plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year and does not necessarily have any relation to the amount of sales for that year. The values under this head also include the amounts received for work done on materials furnished by others.

Salaries and Wages

The salaries and wages amounted to $2,423,000 in 1914 and to $2,139,000 in 1909, the increase being $284,000, or 13.3 per cent.

HOPE TO MOTORIZE FIRE DEPARTMENT BY JUNE 1

City officials are hopeful of advertising for bids for the motorization of Portsmouth's fire department bonds for which have been provided by June 1 and awarding contracts by June.

It is figured that it will require ninety days for the delivery of some of the apparatus. The officials are now receiving daily inquiries and visits from representatives of motor fire apparatus firms. It is planned to take up the motorization of the various engine companies separately. Combination chemical and hose wagons will probably be available first and more time will likely be required for the delivery of an aerial ladder truck and tractor for one of the engines.

Carlsbad Springs Water Bottled Under Sanitary Conditions

The pure food and drug law passed by Congress in 1906, has accomplished wonders in eliminating many quack medicines and so-called mineral waters from the market.

The government has inspectors who take up samples of drugs and waters and if they do not come up to certain standards as laid down by law, they are put out of business.

The Kentucky Carlsbad Springs Co. is trying to meet every requirement of the government by installing modern sterilizing plant, filtering system, and in every way do all in their power to see that every bottle of Kentucky Carlsbad water is placed on the market in perfect sanitary condition. Many druggists are selling waters bottled in Grant county to the public as being the same as Carlsbad because they pay less and their profits are greater.

Object To Contractors Sending Sick To City

City Physician Dr. W. D. Schaefer and Human Officer Harry Hall held a conference Wednesday and discussed plans towards putting an end to the practice of railroad contractors unloading sick laborers, all non-residents, upon the city.

These laborers pay a small portion of their monthly wages for medical attention, a physician being hired for that particular purpose and the local officials do not feel that this community should be imposed upon by having them brought here. Once they are admitted to the hospital it is hard to get rid of them. William Weidner, county infirmary superintendent, is also expected to co-operate with the officials by refusing to admit such persons as inmates of that institution.

William Oliver, a Knoxville, Tenn., negro, suffering with heart trouble, who came down from Sciotoville Tuesday and planted himself in the doorway of the city building is an example of what the officials have to contend with. He is now at the police station under treatment from Dr. Schaefer.

NAMES OF MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CLUBS ARE OFTEN MISNOMERS

The Giants aren't giants. Many of them are almost pygmies. Doyle, Knott, Burns, Harden and three or four others are far under six feet in height. The regular team, as a whole, probably doesn't average beyond five feet ten inches or five feet eleven inches.

The Cubs are full grown. There's Joe Tinker, who is well along in the thirties, the ancient Mor Brown and Frank Schulte. Mike Doolan, Heinie Zimmerman, Steve Yerkes and Johnny King are a bit elderly, too.

The Indians aren't what their name implies. They're not savage; they don't emit warwhoops or conduct scalp-dancing parties.

The Browns are not brown.

The Dodgers still dodge trolley cars over in the wilds of Brooklyn, but they don't dodge the other ball clubs as they used to do in the by-gone days.

The Cardinals hold their name. Cardinals are not supposed to use profane language, chew tobacco or drink beer. Yet some of the Cardinals do those very things.

The Yankees aren't Yankees. Some Irish, some German, some English and the others are something other than pure Yankee descent.

The Pirates are not thieves. You'll agree with us if you consult the base stealing records. Nor are they bold. They do not sail the seas except when they make occasional trips to Boston. Some of them have buried gold, of course, but they've earned it.

As to the Reds—well, maybe they are a bit different. Anarchists are commonly referred to as "Reds." If you don't believe that anarchy sometimes prevails in Cincinnati, ask a National league umpire.

PRESIDENT OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

President throwing first ball in opening game at Washington.

The national capital would not feel that its baseball season had been properly inaugurated unless the president of the United States attended the game and threw out the first ball. The opening of the home season came on the heels of the president's important message to congress on the German submarine issue and it was announced the night before the game that Mr. Wilson could not attend. He made a special effort to go, however, and saw Washington win the opener.

Outfielder Is Selected

Charleston, April 26.—Speber, the Cincinnati boy, is also attracting attention of fans who have been attending the practice. With this player, Calbert, and the manager in the outfield, this part of the fight will be better taken care of than with any other club. Powell himself expressed his opinion of Speber and Calbert as being the best he has seen in this circuit, and the manager can take care of his middle garden. There are no others trying for these positions.

White Sox Picked To Win Flag In American

The majority of American League ballplayers we have talked to are picking the White Sox to win. The general verdict seems to be that Commy's club is stronger on offense than the Red Sox, and stronger on defense than the Tigers, with a proper balance that should be victorious.

The idea seems to be that White Sox pitching, backed up by the batting of Collins, Jackson, Fournier and others, will be about enough. Which you are at liberty to ponder over in any moments that may come along.

SHARMAN'S FIRST BLOW

Ralph Sharmann has made his first hit for the Memphis Southern league club. He made it last Sunday and it was a double to left. Memphis played Little Rock at home Sunday and 6,000 fans witnessed the game.

SENATORS ON THE FIELD

Charleston, April 26. Nearly all the local ball players have reported and yesterday when Manager Powell called practice seventeen men in uniform responded. They were put through some batting practice and also fielding. Jack Henderson came in last night from his home at Junction City, Ohio, and will be with the men today. Henderson, with Coffindaffer, Paul Carpenter and Hoffman will make up the pitching staff, but an effort is being made to get a few more to show their twirling ability.

Schnell Is Real Catcher

Charleston, April 26.—Manager Powell of the Senators thinks he has made the real find in obtaining Roy Schnell, catcher, from the Mobile club. Schnell shows more class in practice than any of his opponents, and is said to be a good hitter. Outfielder and McKee, local boys, are the only others now out for this position.

TEN YEARS AGO

Ten years ago today the Reds, with Doolan and Chubb in the box, were defeated by St. Louis, 7 to 6. Jimmy Gardner and Joe Gans matched to fight at Chelsea, Mass. New York led National League race.

TEAM NEEDS CATCHER

Manager Spencer has begun to worry about his catching department. Unless Dillon decides to report the team will be up against it for a first class experienced backstop.

Emmer Was In The Game

Frank Emmer broke into the Cincinnati-St. Louis game Tuesday, playing one inning at third for the Reds. It looks like he is going to retain the former Ohio State leaguer.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

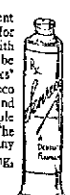

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Seneca Tooth Paste. Seneca combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Seneca does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Seneca alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Seneca treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Seneca of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Seneca Remedies Company, 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

'Healthgrams' On Skin-Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the blood and the blood is the building material for the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will eventually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realize the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrhs with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them had spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood corpuscles and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. Of Christian Endeavor Union

A largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting, held in the Sunday school room of the First Christian church Tuesday evening, marked the first anniversary of the County Christian Endeavor Union and the usual quarterly mass meeting, the Christian church Christian Endeavor Society being the entertainers.

The churches and number of members present were: Second Presbyterian 23, Christian 30, Grandview Avenue Christian 12, First Presbyterian 8, Central Presbyterian 2 and New Boston 3, making a total of eighty.

Considerable interest was manifested in the making of plans for a County Christian Endeavor Convention, which will be held in one of the local churches in May. It is planned to have no less than 200 C. E. members from all parts of the county at this convention, the first one to be held. Miss Nora Wilhelm was appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A large number also expressed their intention of attending the State C. E. Convention which is to be held in Springfield, O., on June 27, 28, 29 and 30th. Over twelve local delegates are expected to attend the convention.

The meeting last night was opened with prayer by William Evans, which was followed by song and scripture reading. Rev. Charles R. Oakley, pastor of the First Christian church, made an address of welcome and a few remarks for the good of the Christian Endeavor. A song by a young ladies' sextette, composed of Misses Helen Warner, Bess True, Lucile Goodman, Bess Goodman, Marjorie Gerlach and Mrs. Charles Brockman, was well received. Miss Gerlach presided at the piano. Miss True and Earl Reinhard rendered a beautiful duet, Miss Gerlach being the accompanist. Lloyd Craden, County C. E. Union president, made a few remarks on C. E. work. Rev. R. B. Cartwright, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, made a short talk on C. E. work and told of the new organization at his church. Rev. Cartwright is taking an active part in C. E. work.

A motion was made and passed, that the Central Presbyterian Society be taken into the County Union. The election of new officers was one of the features of the meeting. Following is the result of the election: President, Harry Smith; Vice-President, Cecil Sawyer; Corresponding Secretary, Mary McGregor; Recording Secretary, Bertha Wilhelm; Treasurer, Everett Drew; Quorum Hour Superintendent, Orin Catlin; Chairman Publicity Committee, Wesley Hidenour; Chairman Lookout Committee, John Bickham. John Williams was chairman of the social committee in charge of the entertaining.

Boy Who Whipped Girl Will Appear In Court

Delaware Moore, a Court street boy, who was taken into police custody after he had unmercifully beaten up a young girl named Tolleriver at the Second street school, Tuesday afternoon, was later released upon orders of Judge Beatty to appear before him Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Despite the efforts of Miss Ellen M. Kiefer, principal of the school, and bystanders to restrain him, young Moore abused the girl up to a front door of the school, and knocking her down, rained blow after blow upon her face and head with his fists. As Henderson, a shoemaker, pulled him off the child, and the boy struggled desperately to release himself from his grasp. A wave of indignation swept over the large crowd, that was attracted to the scene, because of the boy's vicious attack upon the defenseless girl. He, himself, justified his act by saying she and four other girls had attacked his little sister, and that previously the Tolleriver girl was in a habit of carrying a knife, with which to terrorize his sister. Chief Henry Clark told him his proper recourse was in court.

D. C. Davies Returned A Winner In Ironton

Ironton, April 26.—Probably there was never an election held in the history of Lawrence county in which such a small number of voters participated as the first presidential primary of Tuesday. Only a small fraction of the county's voting strength turned out.

Wilson and Burton were endorsed by the voters although the names of Henry Ford, Col. Roosevelt and others were written in on but a few scattered ballots.

The Big Four Republican slate was given the majority with Harding running first, Willis next and Proctor and Sullivan following in order. Tyler ran ahead of Giffin and Glaser in the returns received last night.

The Democratic county candidates had no opposition. The chief contest, and the one in which the greatest interest centered, was that between D. C. Davies and Tom Freeman, for delegate to the State Republican convention. The race was nip and tuck but Davies was given the decision with a majority of six votes.

Tea, Coffee and Children

It would be difficult for any parent to find a physician of modern education who would contend that coffee and tea are not harmful, especially to growing children.

The fact remains, however, that many parents give these beverages to their little folks and allow their use in older children at a time when physical and mental development is the most rapid.

The drug, caffeine, in coffee and tea retards growth and interferes with school progress. Disturbances of eyesight, headaches, nervousness, irritability, indigestion and other ills appear in many, seemingly without cause, and the damage often occurs at the most impressionable period of life.

No parent should permit the use of coffee and tea in the growing young; for the men and women of tomorrow will be what the parent of today makes the children by wise upbringing.

Children as well as adults need an invigorating, warm drink, and in a growing number of homes it has been found that the most wholesome table beverage is

Columbus People Advise Best Way To Treat Cold Troubles

Keep Plenty of Fresh Air in the Bedroom, and Apply a Good Application of Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve, Covering With a Warm Flannel Cloth.

The Medication is Absorbed Through the Skin, and Inhaled as a Vapor.

It is no longer necessary to dash with nauseous drugs to relieve cough and colds. Columbus people proved this some winters ago when Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve was first introduced from the South. The Columbus druggists presented complimentary fare to a few of their customers and requested that they report the results. Below are some of these reports:
Mrs. F. B. Hinds, 931 Bellows Avenue: "We have used your Vick's Vap-O-Rub on our baby, and we can recommend it to anyone as a wonderful remedy for a bad case of pneumonia." Mrs. M. E. Koch, 518 West 1st St.: "We have a long time ago used that had pneumonia in its worst stage. We had a very good doctor, but it was a very stubborn case. We tried Vick's Vap-O-Rub and it was quite a change in a very short time. Now we keep it in the house all the time and I feel that I can't speak too highly of your remedy."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub is really a vapor lamp in salve form. When applied over the throat and chest the body heat vaporizes the ingredients, and at the same time Vick's is absorbed through and stimulates the skin. You will find this preparation superior to all other remedies for all forms of cold troubles, from head colds, asthma, or catarrh, down to deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, grippe, or influenza pneumonia.

Vick's Vap-O-Rub comes in three sizes: 25c, 50c or $1.00 at all druggists.

Stand By The President In War, Judge For Yourself In Peace

—SAYS CONGRESSMAN KEARNS

"Stand by the president" is a phrase that does not always appeal to Congressman Charles C. Kearns, according to an address delivered before three hundred members of the Scioto County Republican Club Tuesday evening at a splendid smoker given by the organization. Congressman Kearns says that congress should stand by the president only in times of war but should exercise its own mind and opinions in those times which it believes to be its duty at other times. "You people did not send me to congress to vote the sentiments of the president. You sent me there to vote the sentiments of your district and the country at large. When men are sent to congress to vote the ideas of the president, we might as well do away with the system," declared the speaker.

Senator W. D. Tremper, when the meeting convened, was selected as chairman. He introduced the distinguished visitor as one of the "coming great men of Ohio." After the speaking program it was announced that the membership of the club aggregated eight hundred and ninety-four. After a few election returns were given the meeting adjourned. Congressman Kearns left for Washington, D. C., late Tuesday night.

"We are now commencing a campaign that is going to be one of the most historical in our existence," declared Congressman Kearns. "The interests and perhaps the life of a nation depends upon the outcome of the campaign. The paramount issue, as in former years and always will be, is the protective tariff because it has been demonstrated time and again that the United States as a government cannot exist without protection to American capital and American labor."

"The principle of Democracy, as history will tell us, has been against protective tariff and for tariff for revenue only or in other words, free trade. We all agree that this is the great difference between the two parties."

Business Paralyzed With Protection Gone
"Every time the Democratic party has come into power with a tariff for revenue only or free trade, business is paralyzed. During the first nine months of the great war, business was paralyzed as you all know; banks were closed; business houses failed and factories closed down."

"Take your own great steel plant. The same thing is true. I understand that for eighteen years this great industry, employing fifteen hundred men, operated a full time. The first time I came here, shortly after the Democratic administration assumed control, there were about five hundred men employed. During the first nine months of the Democratic tariff this great steel mill employing 1500 men, as all others, dwindled to 500 men and was only running then four or five days a week."

"Then came the great war. It acted as a protective tariff, creating a temporary wall of prosperity that is built on the eastern shores of dead men."

"Business increased, it is true, but what else could it do? The steel plants were flooded with war orders. They could hardly get sufficient help to fill them. But yet how about the domestic question? How about everyone beyond our own borders? How has this spotted prosperity affected them?"

"The Democratic platform has always had the free trade plank and business invariably dwindles on the wave of business stagnation."

"The tariff is the paramount issue but there are other issues. For instance, where the United States sits in the business of other nations, when it has no business to do so. Then is when we are told that party lines are withdrawn and we are urged to 'stand by the president.' This standing by the president is alright, we do not deny."

Will Try To Keep Country Out of War
"But if in my feeble way I can stay the hand of the president from plunging this country into war, I am going to do it. If war should come, there is not a citizen in the United States, foreign born or native, but would stand by the American flag and the president. But your duty and my duty, and my duty as an officer of the government, is to do all within our power to prevent such a crisis."

"I know I have made remarks in the House about the crisis and have been criticized severely by most of the Democratic newspapers in the country. I cannot help but feel that it was my duty as I was not sent to the House to represent the views and ideas of the president. I had to cast my vote the way I felt was my duty to my district and my country."

"A short while ago, the president of the United States called upon congress for an opinion. He wanted to know whether Americans should travel upon armed ships belonging to belligerent countries. While it was a simple question, the president himself held that Americans had the right to travel upon armed vessels. Then one belligerent country attempted to sink ships carrying munitions to the other belligerent countries when they approached the war zones by inaugurating a submarine policy."

"I came to the conclusion that no American had the right to jeopardize the interests of his country by riding upon those armed ships. Then, if he did have the right, I believe he should forgo it in the interests of his government."

"Whatever resolutions were offered by the Democratic administration to congress, not a Republican laid a straw in the way when the resolutions were presented."

"I have no apology to make for the way I voted on the resolution presented by the president. I voted the way my conscience dictated. I do believe that no foolhardy American has the right to jeopardize the interests of his country. We wanted to modify the resolution and strip it of all verbiage to say 'travel on ships if you want to, but we believe it is dangerous and do not want to bring this country into war by advising you to take passage upon one of them.' I voted against the resolution. The president said he wanted our views and he got mine. I am not pro-ally or pro-German but I am pro-American."

"There is a spotted prosperity—but a blood-soaked prosperity—throughout the land," solemnly declared the speaker. "I do not hear the most enthusiastic Democrat I know, boasting of it, for it is built on the bodies of one million dead men."

"Go on any battle field in Europe where the white flag of truce flies; where windrow after windrow of dead and dying lay, take off a soldier's cap from his cold stiff form and you will find that it was made in America; take off his shoes and you will find that they are made in America, perhaps in Portsmouth; remove his socks and you will find they were made in America. Even remove any of his clothing and you will probably find the 'Made in America' mark."

"Go find the wound where the soldier lies in his last sleep—a monument to the American prosperity, and you will find that it was smoothed by a shovel made in America. This prosperity, as I said before, the most enthusiastic Democrat does not boast of."

Says South Rules The President
"I know that President Wilson is honest in his undertakings and he believes that he is right in his views. He was born and reared in the atmosphere of the South, where cotton is king. And three-fourths of this crop is exported to foreign countries where it is sold and other products from the cheap pauper labor of the European countries are purchased in return. No wonder they in the South are in favor of free trade. What do they care about the northern manufacturers or protection as long as they dispose of their principal products and purchase their supplies from Europe at a very cheap price. But the South is beginning to realize the fallacy of free trade."

The speaker in detail explained how the congressmen from the southern states fought for protective tariff on sugar and of the scenes that accompanied the fight.

"Why is it that the South rules the Democratic party? I cannot understand and I am not supposed to, why most of the important committees are made up from Southern congressmen. The South is in absolute control of the government today. A new committee in the House was created this year, known as the committee on flood control and a gentleman from Mississippi was appointed chairman. I know of but two other committees, the chairman of which are not Democrats from the South."

"Senator Stone, leader in the senate, commenting upon the policy of President Wilson the other day said upon the floor of the senate, that if his program in foreign affairs was followed, it would plunge this country headlong into war."

"Senator Gore openly accused him of saying in a conference that the American people desired war with Germany. He is a good Democrat and would be careful of what he said. That statement started by Senator Gore has not yet been challenged by anyone except the president. Senator Stone and Senator Kurns, who were present only said that Senator Gore had not used the exact language of the president."

"Senator Stone has written a letter, which is now historical to the president, in which he says several interesting things. I believe that I remember a portion of the letter. It says: 'Since having my conference with you, I have been troubled as I have never been troubled before.' Further along: 'I do not believe the American people want war with Germany.' What did Senator Stone mean if the president had not said that the American people wanted war with Germany?"

"Whatever my duty may be and whatever action I take, you may be assured that it comes from an honest heart. If I happen to believe that the American people do not want war with Germany, have I not the same right to vote my sentiments? Whether or not, I am going to exercise what I believe my prerogative."

"I believe, gentlemen, that an American's rights should be protected by his country, but there is a difference in the interpretation of rights! Has the man who goes out on the sea well knowing his danger to get the thrills of passing through the war zones, the same right to be protected as the man who went into Mexico at the invitation of the Mexican government to establish a home. Had this American who went into Mexico with his wife and perhaps his family a right to believe that the American flag would follow him into the depths and surround him with the security of the great country? After this man had gone into Mexico and spent perhaps the best years of his life establishing a home and making his fortune, he is forced to abandon all. Revolution after revolution stirred the country and finally the administration tells these American people to get out that they have no business there. Gentlemen, they had a right there."

Lives Mean More Than Cotton
"To my mind, a bale of cotton floating in a trackless sea is nothing compared with eighteen men lined up along a stone wall and shot to death because they are Americans because American blood courses through their veins. This is what the administration says to the Americans in Mexico: 'If you don't like your treatment, get out!' But do they say the same thing to the American who is traveling on the armed vessels of the belligerent countries?"

"I don't doubt the president's honesty and I cannot challenge his patriotism. He has entertained views, a great many of which cannot be accepted by congress."

"Understand I am not complaining, but I never heard the rebel yell before until I entered congress and since then I have heard it so often that I believe I could repeat it perfectly. Every time the president appears in the house he is greeted with a rebel yell. I am not complaining," said Congressman Kearns, with a band outstretched and pointing pal products and purchase their supplies from Europe at a very cheap price. But the South is beginning to realize the fallacy of free trade."

The speaker in detail explained how the congressmen from the southern states fought for protective tariff on sugar and of the scenes that accompanied the fight.

BONDS AWARDED BY CITY COUNCIL; NO ACTION ON EXTRA PAY ORDINANCE

City council at an adjourned session Tuesday evening passed resolutions awarding the $50,000 bonds to several veterans of the great civil war, "but when I see you who are here tonight wearing that little bronze button on your coat, I remember that it was you who with great feeling touched the keynote on that great organ in the bloody days of the sixties which gave forth the grand anthem of liberty and union and went pealing and reverberating down through the mountains and swamps of the southland until it put everything in perfect accordance with its harmony. I wonder what you think of the rebel yell greeting the president in congress?"

"I do not like for a man to walk down an aisle to the dividing line between the majority and the minority and point his finger at me and question my patriotism. I had always believed that Jeff Davis was a traitor and was guilty of treason but somehow this belief would be materially changed if you were to believe the things the southern congressmen say. Understand I am not criticizing. I am only observing. I have learned many things since I came to congress."

"I remember one man walking down the aisle to the line of the minority and pointing his finger saying: 'It is a disgrace to the memory of Davis and Lincoln.'"

"In concluding, I want to say that while I am in congress I want to do the things the people of my district and the country at large want me to do. I cannot well represent my district without taking into consideration the views of the country at large."

"I will do everything in my power to keep this country out of war. I do not believe that there is a single family in Portsmouth who has a single one to sacrifice upon the bloody fields of carnage. Says Some War To Continue"

"Somehow, I cannot help but believe that there are certain manufacturers who desire that the war continue. I believe that the manufacturers in the east want war to come. I can tell you why! Every small hamlet in the east is practically filled with manufacturers busy making supplies for the European countries. And you can tell this when the congressmen of the eastern district vote. They show that the people in their district want the war to continue. Then they readily believe that Americans should be allowed to travel upon armed ships carrying munitions of war for it is one of the cheapest forms of insurance. The American's presence is practically a guarantee of a safe voyage."

There are classes in this country that want to see our side win and there are others that desire to see the other side win, but if the test comes, they will all be Americans; first, even to the foreign born. There are those, if you remember, who purchased the half billion war loan which was floated in this country a few months ago. They are wanting a certain side to win. I notice by the recent market reports that these bonds are selling for ninety-four cents on a dollar and if the war lasts another year they will be selling for forty cents on the dollar, and if a certain side wins they will not be worth five cents on a dollar. So you can see that there are elements interested in both sides of the war."

"I do not care what side wins. I only hope that we pass through it and tend strictly to our own business."

Senator Tremper with his usually characteristic humor announced that the speech of Congressman Kearns concluded the program but urged that everyone stay and hear the election returns. He said the club had reached the "nine hundred mark" and was growing like a European war debt."

City council at an adjourned session Tuesday evening passed resolutions awarding the $50,000 bonds to several veterans of the great civil war, "but when I see you who are here tonight wearing that little bronze button on your coat, I remember that it was you who with great feeling touched the keynote on that great organ in the bloody days of the sixties which gave forth the grand anthem of liberty and union and went pealing and reverberating down through the mountains and swamps of the southland until it put everything in perfect accordance with its harmony. I wonder what you think of the rebel yell greeting the president in congress?"

Resolutions were also passed awarding the $50,000 levee and $40,000 water works extension bonds to the State Industrial Commission. These are the two issues created to take care of the restoration of the reservoir and extension of the said he merely prepared the ordinance and brought it in because he had been requested to do so and agreed that Service Director Ralph Calvert should first submit an estimate before council could be expected to take action in the matter.

Mayor H. H. Kaps pleaded ignorance in the matter, saying he knew nothing about it, and indicated that council's refusal to act under the circumstances was all right with him.

HENRY TATMAN FOUND DEAD AT FRIENDSHIP

Henry Clay Tatman, aged 68, for many years a blacksmith at Friendship, was stricken with heart failure while in the yard back of his home, at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, and died before medical assistance could be summoned. Dr. D. N. Hopkins, who was called to the Tatman home, said Mr. Tatman's death was attributed to heart failure.

A. Willis Tatman, a son, was passing through the yard, he heard screams emanating from behind the big barn. An investigation revealed his aged father lying on the ground in a dying condition. Suddenly stricken with heart failure, he sank to the ground and was unable to get up. Members of the family were called to the scene, but Tatman expired before he could be carried into his home, being virtually found dead. He had been complaining of not feeling well for several months, but his condition was not considered serious, in fact Mr. Tatman remained at his work as usual. He was met by B. C. Stockham, well-known storekeeper at Friendship, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, and was invited to accompany Mr. Stockham to the polls, but he declined, saying that he felt too bad to walk that far.

Henry Clay Tatman was 68 years old. For many years he had been a highly esteemed resident of Friendship. His wife died about six years ago. He was born and reared in Brown county, but at an early age he located in Friendship. The surviving children are: Oliver, who has not been heard from in ten years; Willis, Emory, Eliza, of Spokane, Wash.; Gordon, dead and Florence, of Spokane. L. G. Tatman, formerly of this city, is a nephew of the deceased.

General Good Time At Reception This Evening

Indications point to a splendid attendance at the reception to be tendered the new members at the First Christian church this (Wednesday) evening. The good women of the church will spend most of the day baking big layer cakes, while the Men's Union will see to it that plenty of brick ice cream will be ready for distribution. President C. I. Cheyne, of the Men's Union, has the program in charge, and, needless to add, that he will bring forth the best available talent, so far as speech-making is concerned. Addresses will be made by Elbers Walter Bagby and Gilbert F. Dodds, while, of course, Rev. Chas. R. Oakley will have something to say.

The reception committee will be composed of the members of the Christian Endeavor, who have planned some unique stunts for the occasion. All members who have united with the church since the first of the year will be accorded reserved seats—the best in the house. They will be given a cordial greeting and made to feel that they are thrice welcome into the ranks of the membership. Every member of the church is cordially invited to attend the reception. Come and help make the event one of the happiest occasions in the history of the church. Room for cordials and plenty to eat—in fact a general good time all around.

EDITOR LITTLEJOHN'S STAND

Editor John D. Littlejohn, formerly editor of The Portsmouth Blade, and later of The Star, now of the Wellston Sentinel, publishes his creed of Americanism and is mighty vigorous and certain about it too. His friends down here will be interested in what he has to say. It follows:

"Many societies composed of members of foreign descent are passing resolutions calling on their senators and congressmen to stand by Germany or the Allies.

"If those people are citizens of the United States, as claimed, they should be ashamed of themselves. Such action makes them unworthy of enjoying this blessed privilege. It would look better for them to pass resolutions urging their senators and congressmen to unflinchingly stand by America first, last and all the time, renewing their oath of allegiance pledging undying fealty to the nation. Any other resolutions are treasonable and those who sign them are guilty of treason should be arrested, tried, and the heaviest penalty of the law be inflicted upon them.

"This is America, and we are here to fight the battles of America not those of any other foreign power.

"Every congressman in Ohio and in the nation was elected to represent the United States. Each has taken an oath to support the constitution and the laws of his country, and if any of them is so in love with their foreign powers that he can not give unequivocally his full support to the people and the country he represents, he should immediately be impeached, deprived not only of his office but his suffrage and ridden publicly on a rail after being tarred and feathered upon his return to his home.

"To school and then some with an alleged citizen who would divide his allegiance to this land of freedom with that of any other land on top of dirt while continuing and enjoying residence here surrounded with manifold and blessed privileges.

"We are all foreigners, or of foreign descent, the writer is and not far removed. We came here, or our fathers and mothers did, to escape the neck yoke of damnable and infernal king and lordly rule and accursed dynastic oppression. We came so that we could be men and women of our own mind and desires, the equal of all and of any in the land, with the same opportunities and privileges in state and nation, where our sons may become by personal effort and exemplary conduct our servants in the loftiest official positions in the nation, where we make and unmake our own laws, where we pray to our own God and are only answerable to Him who sent us with no king, prince or potentate driving us and governing us with an iron hand of millurism or aristocratic rule.

"Will we sacrifice all this by turning traitor to our country, or even divide our allegiance with the form of governments from which we once fled as from a plague to better our condition in the new world across the seas?

"The time is at hand, we freely believe, when the battle cry of America for Americans should be sung throughout all the land and those who sulk and decline to join in the joyous refrain should be marked and be made to immediately leave our shores and return to the country they seem to love best. They are dangerous elements in any community."

The utter futility of the primary system was demonstrated by the primary held Tuesday. It was costly and cumbersome and less than one-third of the electors took the trouble to vote. Under the convention system the whole thing would have been accomplished in a couple of hours and without expense to the taxpayers.

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD

(From the Thomas (Okla.) Tribune)

From out in Missouri Harry Williams sends us this clever take off on the man who does not believe in Advertising:

A thin, sickly little man entered one of the stores in one of our small towns recently and quietly seated himself on a convenient chair. One of the clerks approached and asked if he wished to purchase anything. "Oh, no," said the man, "I just dropped in for a few minutes." After half an hour had passed, the manager of the store, becoming curious, approached him and asked what could be done for him. "Why, nothing that I know of," said the man. "You see I have nervous prostration, and the doctor told me to stay in a quiet place. Noticing that you do not advertise, I thought this would be about the quietest place I could find."

Somebody has figured out that the taxpayers last year put up $33,000 for the honorable members of our state senate and the senate then turned around and spent $33,142.46 for employees to wait upon them. We shall have to interview our respected friend Senator Trempier about this.

Come to think about it, spring isn't so largard. According to common count spring never did arrive before May 15th.

THE PANACEA FAILS

Results in primary elections, held so far this Spring, go still further to demonstrate that as a means of arriving at a determination of whom the voters would have as candidates they are a distinct failure. In none held so far has the party vote of either side turned out to anything like a majority. As a consequence both the Democrats and Republicans may have presented to them candidates that were chosen by one-twentieth and even less of the electorate rather than a majority. For clear illustration let us take Nebraska. There a brisk campaign was carried on both for national and state tickets. The net outcome was the casting of about one-fourth of the total votes. On the Republican side there were two persons asking for the presidential instructions directly and three others being run by supporters against their wishes. It appears that Senator Cummins may have as high as two thousand plurality over Henry Ford, who tried to have his name taken off the ticket, but did not succeed, but he will not have more than a third as many votes as Ford, Estabrooke, who was a pronounced candidate, Roosevelt, who also failed to get his name off, and Hughes, whose name was written in by thousands. Thus we have the farce of all the delegates being legally obligated to vote for a man, whom less than one Republican in twenty indicated he favored, and it is altogether likely that had Ford, Roosevelt or Hughes been outspoken for the votes he would have gotten a plurality. The final result promises to be even more unsatisfactory. Supporters of Cummins will claim the steadfast allegiance of the delegates because of the plurality, regardless of the showing made by it, while his opponents will maintain there was no expression of the wishes of the party. And the delegates will see what looks fairest to them and govern themselves accordingly, it does not matter which way they go, in so far as the wrangling and bitterness that will be stirred up is concerned.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, April 26.—The divorcee, huge army of subway diggers. That is about all the story—except a life in New York. Last week a patient citizen, aged 64, in happier days a manufacturer of millstones, instead of the wearer of one, asked the courts to lighten his annual burden of $4,000, which he paid out for 24 years as alimony.

His wife has married again, meanwhile, and now has married children. One of the children is drawing $1,000 a year alimony on her own hook. The petitioner says his present income is $5,500 a year and that the alimony has left him in straightened circumstances.

Several years ago there was a man who gave up housekeeping many years ago—he says it is nearly twenty—and stored his household goods. He has since paid storage far in excess of the intrinsic value of the furniture to whose ownership he clings, hoping for the day when he can find a house which he and his family will wish to live in at a rent he can afford to pay.

There seems to be no balm in Gilead for the alimonyer and storer in New York if these cases can be considered samples.

At the subway station at Times Square the other afternoon a vision of feminine loveliness came out of the kiosk and stubbed her toe on a plank. She fell and her fall was accompanied by an ominous tearing sound, a sound which sends the chill down the spine of every woman.

She looked down and saw a five-inch strip of silk trailing its length behind her. She could not tear it off—so she looked around wildly. "Deen, lady? Peen?" and an over-all clad laborer stood in front of her, hat in hand. Pulling aside a necktie, he extracted a large brass safety-pin, which was doing button duty on a flannel shirt. He held it out smilingly and with the interest and kindness of a child.

With a sigh of relief the vision of loveliness stopped to repair the damage wrought. There was a flash of white teeth, a courtly bow, a goodbye and he became one of a

ANTI-SLATE MEN LOSE IN OHIO

ORGANIZATIONS ELECT DELEGATES-AT-LARGE IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

Columbus, O., April 26.—Returns received today from the larger cities of Ohio made certain the election of the organization candidates for delegates-at-large to both the Republican and Democratic National Conventions at yesterday's presidential preference primaries. Although it was the first election under the new primary law, less than one-fourth the voters in the cities went to the polls, while in the rural precincts only ten per cent of the vote was cast.

Former Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, received the Republican vote on the presidential preference ballots, while President Wilson, without opposition on the printed ballots, was designated as the popular choice of the Democrats. William Grant Webster, Chicago attorney whose name had been entered inadvertently as a candidate for president on the Republican ballot, instead of vice president, received less than ten per cent of his party's vote.

A few voters wrote the names of their favorites on the ballots. The number of those who did this was small and is considered of little significance. The name of Henry Ford leads those written on. Both Republicans and Democrats wrote in his name. Theodore Roosevelt and Charles E. Hughes followed Mr. Ford in order. A few votes were made out for Elihu Root and Charles W. Fairbanks on the Republican ticket and William J. Bryan and Champ Clark on the Democratic ticket.

The Republicans elected as delegates-at-large Senator Warren G. Harding, Governor Frank B. Willis, John J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, and Col. William Cooper Proctor, of Cincinnati, Dr. S. O. Giffin, of Columbus, Mutt Glasser, of Cincinnati, and Ralph W. Tyler, negro, of Columbus, all opposed to the regular candidates, were defeated decisively.

The Democratic delegates-at-large were elected in the following order: Former Governor James M. Cox, former Governor James E. Campbell, former Governor Judson Harmon and Senator Atlee Pomerene.

Frank S. Monnett, of Columbus, anti-Wilson candidate, received a substantial vote, the returns indicated. His vote will approximate two-thirds of the Pomerene vote. Local bond issues brought many voters to the polls in some cities. In most instances these issues carried.

AEROPLANES AND ZEPPELIN IN DESPERATE BATTLE TWO MILES ABOVE THE EARTH

Paris, April 26.—A French aeroplane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 4,000 metres off Zebruggen today. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin, which appears to have been damaged. The engagement, occurring more than two miles above the earth, was fought at three o'clock this morning. At the same time another French aeroplane armed with cannon, fired numerous projectiles on a German torpedo boat off Ostend. A German aeroplane of the Fokker type was brought down in an aerial combat near Lunville, France.

NOT A VOTE REGISTERED; GERMAN PRISONERS EVEN OFFICIALS LOAFED ARE TAKEN

Newark, O., April 26.—The local election board is debating today what action shall be taken regarding the failure of election officials in north precinct, Hanover township, which made a record in yesterday's primary by failing to register a single vote. "I would hate to say what ought to be done with them," said an attache of the secretary of state's office when advised that even the officials in that precinct failed to vote. The precinct officials probably will be discharged.

Paris, April 26.—French positions on the Verdun front, west of the Meuse, were bombarded vigorously by the Germans last night. The attack was centered on Avocourt wood and the first line trenches north of the 304.

In the Woivre there was a big gun bombardment. The official French statement of this afternoon, in which these developments are reported, says also that a number of German prisoners were taken during yesterday's attack north of the Aisne.

ENGLAND MAY NEED GENERAL COMPULSION RULE

London, April 26.—Premier Asquith, at the secret session of parliament yesterday, presented on behalf of the government, proposals forshadowing general military compulsion unless success attended "immediate efforts to obtain men required by voluntary enlistment from amongst unattested married men."

"The government," Mr. Asquith said, "will forthwith ask parliament for compulsory power," unless at the end of four weeks, ending May 27, 50,000 men have been secured by voluntary enlistment.

OVER HUNDRED THOUSAND MAY GO ON STRIKE

New York, April 26.—Deadlocked over the question of recognition of the United Mine Workers of America, the anthracite operators and miners today face the possibility of a strike, involving 176,000 men. Unless the deadlock is broken, it will be left to the miner's convention at Pottsville, Pennsylvania, May 2 to determine whether the miners shall declare a strike.

The latest telephone wires in Portsmouth are those leading to the TIMES WANT AD department.

25 CASUALTIES REPORTED FROM THE WARSHIP RAID ON ENGLAND

London, April 26.—Twenty-five casualties in dead and wounded resulted from the bombardment of Lowestoft by German warships and the consequent gunning fight with the British light cruiser squadron and destroyers, so far as can be learned. All the British ships have returned safely, two of the light cruisers bearing signs that they had been hit by shells, but not in vital places. A few among the crews of the British warships were wounded but not seriously.

MASSACHUSETTS DELEGATES ARE UNPLEDGED

Boston, April 26.—Thirty-two of the 36 delegates chosen in the presidential primaries yesterday to represent Massachusetts in the Republican National Convention at Chicago, are unpledged to any candidate for president. These include the four delegates-at-large, Governor Samuel W. McCall, Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and John W. Weeks and former Senator W. Murray Crane. The remaining four delegates chosen from the Ninth and Fourteenth congressional districts are understood to favor the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt. A revision of the figures for the entire state today showed the following vote for delegates-at-large:

Unpledged Ticket—Samuel W. McCall, 62,775; Henry Cabot Lodge, 61,353; John W. Weeks, 58,568; W. Murray Crane, 59,185. Roosevelt Ticket—Charles S. Bird, 46,209; Grafton D. Cushing, 46,255; August H. Gardner, 45,495; Robert M. Washburn, 42,757.

The total vote was slightly less than one-half of that cast for Governor McCall at the state election last fall.

The Democratic delegates-at-large were chosen without opposition. They are former Governor David I. Walsh, former Congressman Joseph H. O'Neill, Charles B. Streicker and Humphrey O'Sullivan. The few contests for Democratic district delegates were purely personal.

All of the Democrats favor the nomination of President Wilson.

BANDIT SLAIN BY AMERICAN CAPTAIN

Columbus, N. M., April 26.—New reports of sniping were brought here today, it being asserted that an American trooper sitting in front of his tent in a small camp near Sateyo suffered a bullet wound in the jaw. An encounter between Lieut. Alden M. Graham and a Villa captain at a point below Namiquipa also was reported. Lieutenant Graham killed the bandit and brought his cap, burdened with seven pounds of silver lace, into the American camp.

OPINION ON NOTE DIVIDED IN BERLIN

Berlin, April 26.—Public opinion in Germany respecting the American note, remains divided in two main directions. One represented by Count Ernest von Reventlow, the naval expert of the Tages Zeitung, and his adherents, which is small but vociferous and powerful, continues to assert it would welcome a breach with America with a feeling of relief. The attitude of the other group was indicated by a remark by Theodore Wolff in this morning's Tageblatt that not they, Americans, but England and other enemies of Germany would welcome a breach "with a feeling of relief."

NAMES OF MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CLUBS ARE OFTEN MISNOMERS

The Giants aren't giants. Many of them are almost pygmies, Doyle, Kauff, Burns, Rariden and three or four others are far under six feet in height. The regular team, as a whole, probably doesn't average beyond five feet ten inches or five feet eleven inches.

The Cubs are full grown. There's Joe Tinker, who is well along in the thirties, the ancient Alton Brown and Frank Schulte. Mike Douhan, Heloise Zimmerman, Steve Yerkes and Johnny King are a bit elderly, too.

The Indians aren't what their name implies. They're not savage; they don't emit warwhoops or conduct scalp-dancing parties.

The Browns are not brown.

The Dodgers still dodge trolley cars over in the wilds of Brooklyn, but they don't dodge the other ball clubs as they used to do in the by-gone days.

The Cardinals belie their name. Cardinals are not supposed to use profane language, chew tobacco or drink beer. Yet some of the Cardinals do those very things.

The Yankees aren't Yankees. Some Irish, some German, some English and the others are something other than pure Yankee descent.

The Pirates are not thieves. You'll agree with us if you consult the base stealing records. Nor are they bold. They do not sail the seas except when they make occasional trips to Boston. Some of them have buried gold, of course, but they've earned it.

As to the Reds—well maybe they are a bit different. Anarchists are commonly referred to as "Reds." If you don't believe that anarchy sometimes prevails in Cincinnati, ask a National League umpire.

PRESIDENT OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

President throwing first ball in opening game at Washington.

The national capital would not feel that its baseball season had been properly inaugurated unless the president of the United States attended the game and threw out the first ball. The opening of the home season came on the heels of the president's important message to congress on the German submarine issue and it was announced the night before the game that Mr. Wilson could not attend. He made a special effort to go, however, and saw Washington win the opener.

Outfielder Is Selected

Charleston, April 26.—Speher, the Cincinnati boy, is also attracting attention of fans who have been attending the practice. With this player, Calbert and the manager in the outfield, this part of the fight will be better taken

White Sox Picked To Win Flag In American

The majority of American League ballplayers we have talked to are picking the White Sox to win.

The general verdict seems to be that Comany's club is stronger on offense than the Red Sox, and stronger on defense than the Tigers, with a proper balance that should be victorious.

The idea seems to be that White Sox pitching, backed up by the batting of Collins, Jackson, Fournier and others, will be about enough. Which you are at liberty to ponder over in any moments that may come along.

SHARMAN'S FIRST BLOW

Ralph Sharmen has made his first hit for the Memphis Southern league club. He made it last Sunday and it was a double to left. Memphis played Little Rock at home Sunday and 6,000 fans witnessed the game.

SENATORS ON THE FIELD

Charleston, April 26.—Nearly all the local ball players have reported and yesterday when Manager Powell called practice seventeen men in uniform responded. They were put through some batting practice and also fielding. Ducky Henderson came in last night from his home at Junction City, Ohio, and will be with the men today. Henderson, with Coffindaffer, Paul Carpenter and Hoffman will make up the pitching staff, but an effort is being made to get a few more to show their twirling ability.

Schnell Is Real Catcher

Charleston, April 26.—Manager Powell of the Senators thinks he has made the real find in obtaining Roy Schnell, catcher, from the Mobile club. Schnell shows more class in practice than any of his opponents and he is said to be a good filler. Infield and McKee, local boys, are the only others now out for this position.

TEAM NEEDS CATCHER

Manager Spencer has begun to worry about his catching department. Unless Dillhofer decides to report the team will be up against it for a first class experienced backstop.

Emmer Was In The Game

Frank Emmer broke into the Cincinnati-St. Louis game Tuesday, playing one inning at third for the Reds. He begins to look like Herzog is going to retain the former Ohio State leaguer.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

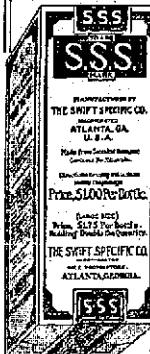

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senecio Tooth Paste. Senecio combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senecio does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senecio alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senecio treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senecio of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address: The Senecio Company, 100 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

'Healthgrams' On Skin—Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will eventually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realize the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrh with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them have spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood, corrects and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. ## EDITOR LITTLEJOHN'S STAND

Editor John D. Littlejohn, formerly editor of The Portsmouth Blade, and later of The Star, now of the Wellston Sentinel, publishes his creed of Americanism and is mighty vigorous and certain about it too. His friends down here will be interested in what he has to say. It follows:

"Many societies composed of members of foreign descent are passing resolutions calling on their senators and congressmen to stand by Germany or the Allies.

"If those people are citizens of the United States, as claimed, they should be ashamed of themselves. Such action makes them unworthy of enjoying this blessed privilege. It would look better for them to pass resolutions urging their senators and congressmen to unflinchingly stand by America first, last, and all the time, renewing their oath of allegiance pledging undying fealty to the nation. Any other resolutions are treasonable and those who sign them are guilty of treason should be arrested, tried, and the heaviest penalty of the law be inflicted upon them.

"This is America, and we are here to fight the battles of America not those of any other foreign power.

"Every congressman in Ohio and in the nation was elected to represent the United States. Each has taken an oath to support the constitution and the laws of his country, and if any of them is so in love with their foreign powers that he can not give unequivocally his full support to the people and the country he represents, he should immediately be impeached, deprived not only of his office but his suffrage and ridden publicly on a rail after being tarred and feathered upon his return to his home.

"To shew and then come with an alleged citizen who would divide his allegiance to this land of freedom with that of any other land on top of dirt while continuing and enjoying residence here surrounded with manifold and blessed privileges.

"We are all foreigners, or of foreign descent, the writer is and not far removed. We came here, or our fathers and mothers did, to escape the neck yoke of damnable and infernal kingly and lordly rule and accursed dynastic oppression. We came so that we could be men and women of our own mind and desires, the equal of all and of any in the land, with the same opportunities and privileges in state and nation, where our sons may become by personal effort and exemplary conduct our servants in the loftiest official positions in the nation, where we make and unmake our own laws, where we pray to our own God and are only answerable to Him who sent us with no king, prince or potentate driving us and governing us with an iron hand of militarism or aristocratic rule.

"Will we sacrifice all this by turning traitor to our country, or even divide our allegiance with the form of governments from which we once fled as from a plague to better our condition in the new world across the seas?

"The time is at hand, we freely believe, when the battle cry of America for Americans should be sung throughout all the land and those who sulk and decline to join in the joyous refrain should be marked and be made to immediately leave our shores and return to the country they seem to love best. They are dangerous elements in any community."

A member of the board of elections was complaining to us the attorney general had ruled this primary was no election and therefore members of the board would get no pay for it. As to the soundness of Turner's law we have no opinion, but as a prophet we should say he is some pumpkins, according to Tuesday's figures.

The utter futility of the primary system was demonstrated by the primary held Tuesday. It was costly and cumbersome and less than one-third of the electors took the trouble to vote. Under the convention system the whole thing would have been accomplished in a couple of hours and without expense to the taxpayers.

Literary critics in this section are sitting up and taking notice of the recent literary production of our young niece. Editor Sibley of the Gallipolis Tribune, quotes it in full and says that it has one transcendent merit that can be commended to grown-ups. ## THE CORPSE HAS EVIDENTLY ESCAPED AGAIN

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD

(From the Thomas (Ola.) Tribune)

From out in Missouri Harry Williams sends us this clever take off on the man who does not believe in Advertising:

A thin, sickly little man entered one of the stores in one of our small towns recently and quietly seated himself on a convenient chair. One of the clerks approached and asked if he wished to purchase anything. "Oh, no," said the man, "I just dropped in for a few minutes." After half an hour had passed, the manager of the store, becoming curious, approached him and asked what could be done for him. "Why, nothing that I know of," said the man. "You see I have nervous prostration, and the doctor told me to stay in a quiet place. Noticing that you do not advertise, I thought this would be about the quietest place I could find."

Somebody has figured out that the taxpayers last year put up $33,000 for the honorable members of our state senate and the senate then turned around and spent $33,142.46 for employees to wait upon them. We shall have to interview our respected friend Senator Tremper about this.

It took four bushel baskets to carry the offerings to Billy Sunday, on the close of his Baltimore campaign. The best thing, no doubt in Billy's eyes, was that they were strictly biblical, pressed down and heaping over.

Come to think about it, spring isn't so laggard. According to common count spring never did arrive before May 15th.

THE PANACEA FAILS

Results in primary elections, held so far this Spring, go still further to demonstrate that as a means of arriving at a determination of whom the voters would have as candidates they are a distinct failure. In none held so far has the party vote of either side turned out to anything like a majority. As a consequence both the Democrats and Republicans may have presented to them candidates that were chosen by one-twentieth and even less of the electorate rather than a majority. For clear illustration let us take Nebraska. There a brisk campaign was carried on both for national and state tickets. The net outcome was the casting of about one-fourth of the total votes. On the Republican side there were two persons asking for the presidential instructions directly and three others being run by supporters against their wishes. It appears that Senator Cummings may have as high as two thousand plurality over Henry Ford, who tried to have his name taken off the ticket, but did not succeed, but he will not have more than a third as many votes as Ford, Estabrooke, who was a pronounced candidate, Roosevelt, who also failed to get his name off, and Hughes, whose name was written in by thousands. Thus we have the farce of all the delegates being legally obligated to vote for a man, whom less than one Republican in twenty indicated he favored, and it is altogether likely that had Ford, Roosevelt or Hughes been outspoken for the votes he would have gotten a plurality. The final result promises to be even more unsatisfactory. Supporters of Cummings will claim the steadfast allegiance of the delegates because of the plurality, regardless of the showing made by it, while his opponents will maintain there was no expression of the wishes of the party. And the delegates will see what looks fairest to them and govern themselves accordingly, it does not matter which way they go, in so far as the wrangling and bitterness that will be stirred up is concerned.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, April 26—The divorce problems present some odd phases of a life in New York. Last week a patient citizen, aged 61, in happier days a manufacturer of millstones instead of the wearer of one, asked the courts to lighten his annual burden of $4,000, which he paid out for 24 years as alimony.

His wife has married again, meanwhile, and now has married children. One of the children is drawing $1,000 a year alimony on her own hook. The petitioner says his present income is $8,500 a year and that the alimony has left him in straitened circumstances.

Several years ago there was a man who gave up housekeeping many years ago—he says it is nearly twenty—and stored his household goods. He has since paid storage for in excess of the intrinsic value of the furniture to whose ownership he clings, hoping for the day when he can find a house which he and his family will wish to live in at a rent he can afford to pay.

There seems to be no balm in Gilead for the alimony and storer in New York if these cases can be considered samples.

At the subway station at Times Square the other afternoon a vision of feminine loveliness came out of the kiosk and stubbed her toe on a plank. She fell and her fall was accompanied by an ominous tearing sound, a sound which sends the chill down the spine of every woman.

She looked down and saw a five-inch strip of silk trailing its length behind her. She could not tear it off so she looked around wildly.

"Peen, lady? Peen?" and an over-ell eld laborer stood in front of her hat in hand. Pulling aside a necktie, he extracted a large brass safety-pin, which was doing butt duty on a flannel shirt. He held it out smilingly and with the interest and kindness of a child.

With a sigh of relief the vision of loveliness stopped to repair the damage wrought. There was a flash of white teeth, a courtly bow, a goodbye and he became one of a

"REGULARS" WIN ON BOTH TICKETS HENRY TATMAN FOUND IN CITY, COUNTY AND DISTRICT DEAD AT FRIENDSHIP

The primary election of Tuesday, in so far as Scioto county and the Sixth congressional district were concerned, was chiefly remarkable for the lack of interest displayed, the vote cast being the smallest on record for a general primary. Partial returns from the various counties indicate that less than one-third of the vote was cast.

The Times made efforts to secure returns early Wednesday from the various counties in the district upon the fight for delegates to the national convention. It was found impossible to get returns except from scattered precincts, as the election boards made no attempt Tuesday night to receive or canvass the returns. This was being done Wednesday and it is hoped to have the complete returns in the evening edition of The Times.

Based on scattered precincts from each county in the district, which indicate the general tenor of the voting, it is certain that in both Democratic and Republican camps the so-called regular candidates for delegates to the national convention were victorious by decisive majorities. Harry E. Taylor and John Wood were endorsed at the Portsmouth meeting, have apparently carried every county in the district over Charles Pearson, who came out in Brown county in an effort to defeat Mr. Wood. Owing to the Pearson tactics of making friends to vote for him alone, or in Brown county of asking Democrats to vote for both Brown county men, the vote between Pearson and Taylor in Brown will be close and Pearson may have a small plurality. In other counties Taylor and Wood ran along together, Wood leading in the counties where he was best known and Taylor in the upper end of the district. Wood carried his own county of Brown by 150 to 200 and Taylor carried Scioto by from 200 to 250, while Wood will have around 100. In Pike county, almost complete, Taylor had 263 votes, Wood 231 and Pearson 53.

On the Republican side George Davis, of Scioto, and Frank McCaffery, of Brown, are elected, and will carry every county in the district, with the possible exception that J. Robert Stivers may defeat McCaffery in Brown, both being from that county. At Ripley Stivers got 80 votes, Davis 14, and McCaffery 14, indicating that Stivers' friends followed the same tactics as did those of Pearson, voting for Stivers alone. Other counties in the district were safely carried by the Davis-McCaffery combination, judging from scattered returns.

Of the Republican Big Four, Willis was running second to Senator Harding in Scioto county. The mavericks received from 100 to 150 votes, but Proctor and Sullivan were the two slashed the most.

Stand By The President In War, Judge For Yourself In Peace

SAYS CONGRESSMAN KEARNS

"Stand by the president" is a phrase that does not always appeal to Congressmen. Charles C. Kearns, according to an address he delivered before three hundred members of the Scioto County Republican Club Tuesday evening at the organization. Congressman Kearns says that congress should stand by the president only in times of war but should exercise its own mind and opinions in those things which it believes to be its duty at other times. "You people did not send me to congress to vote the sentiments of the president. You sent me there to vote the sentiments of your district and the country at large. When men are sent to congress to vote the ideas of the president, we might as well do away with the system," declared the speaker.

Senator W. D. Tremper, when the meeting convened, was selected as chairman. He introduced the distinguished visitor as one of the "coming great men of Ohio." After the speaking program it was announced that the membership of the club aggregated eight hundred and ninety-four. After a few election returns were given the meeting adjourned. Congressman Kearns left for Washington, D. C., late Tuesday night.

"We are now commencing a campaign that is going to be one of the most important in our existence," declared Congressman Kearns. "The interests and perhaps the life of a nation depends upon the outcome of the campaign. The paramount issue, as in former years and always will be, is the protective tariff. Because it has been demonstrated time and again that the United States as a government cannot exist without protection to American capital and American labor."

"The principle of Democracy, as history will tell us, has been against protective tariff and for a tariff for revenue only or in other words, free trade. We all agree that this is the great difference between the two parties. Business paralyzed."

"Every time the Democratic party has come into power with a tariff for revenue only or free trade, business is paralyzed. During the first nine months of the great war, business was paralyzed as you all know; banks were closed; business houses failed and factories closed down."

"Take your own great steel plant. The same thing is true. I understand that for eighteen years this great industry, employing fifteen hundred men, operated at full time. The first time I came here, shortly after the Democratic administration assumed control, there were about five hundred men employed. During the first nine months of the Democratic tariff this great steel mill employing 1500 men, as all others, dwindled to 500 men and was only running then four or five days a week."

"Then came the great war. It acted as a protective tariff, creating a temporary wall of prosperity that is built on the eastern shores of dead men."

"Business increased, it is true, but what else could it do? The steel plants were flooded with war orders. They could hardly get sufficient help to fill them. But yet how about the domestic question? How about everyone beyond our own borders? How has this spotted prosperity affected them?"

"The Democratic platform has always had the free trade plank and business invariably dwindles on the wave of business stagnation."

"The tariff is the paramount issue, but there are other issues. For instance, where the United States sits in the business of other nations, when it has no business to do so. Then is when we are told that party lines are withdrawn and we are urged to 'stand by the president.' This standing by the president is alright, we do not deny."

Will Try To Keep Country Out of War

"But if I in my feeble way can stay the hand of the president from plunging this country into war, I am going to do it. If war should come, there is not a citizen in the United States, foreign born or native, but would stand by the American flag and the president. But your duty and my duty, and my duty as an officer of the government, is to do all within our power to prevent such a crisis."

"I know I have made remarks in the House about the crisis and have been criticised severely by most of the Democratic newspapers in the country. I cannot help but feel that it was my duty as I was not sent to the House to represent the views and ideas of the president. I had to cast my vote the way I felt was my duty to my district and my country."

"A short while ago, the president of the United States called upon congress for an opinion. He wanted to know whether Americans should travel upon armed ships belonging to belligerent countries. While it was a simple question, the president himself held that Americans had the right to travel upon armed vessels. Then one belligerent country attempted to sink ships carrying munitions to the other belligerent countries when they approached the war zones by inaugurating a submarine policy."

"I came to the conclusion that no American had the right to jeopardize the interests of his country by riding upon those armed ships. Then, if he did have the right, I believe he should forgo it in the interests of his government."

"Whatever resolutions were offered by the Democratic administration to congress, not a Republican laid a straw in the way when the resolutions were presented."

"I have no apology to make for the way I voted on the resolution presented by the president. I voted the way my conscience dictated. I do believe that no foolhardy American has the right to jeopardize the interests of his country. We wanted to modify the resolution and strip it of all verbiage to say 'travel on ships if you want to, but we believe it is dangerous and do not want to bring this country into war by advising you to take passage upon one of them.' I voted against the resolution. The president said he wanted our views and he got mine. I am not pro-ally or pro-German but I am pro-American."

"There is a spotted prosperity throughout the land," solemnly declared the speaker. "I do not hear the most enthusiastic Democrat I know, boasting of it, for it is built on the bodies of one million dead men."

"Go on any battle field in Europe where the white flag of truce flies; where window after window of dead and dying lay; take off a soldier's cap from his cold stiff form and you will find that it was made in America; take off his shoes and you will find that they are made in America, perhaps in Portsmouth; remove his socks and you will find they were made in America. Even remove any of his clothing and you will probably find the 'Made in America' mark."

"Go find the mound where the soldier lies in his last sleep—a monument to the American prosperity, and you will find that it was smoothed by a shovel made in America. This prosperity, as I said before, the most enthusiastic Democrat does not boast of."

"I know that President Wilson is honest in his undertakings and he believes that he is right in his views. He was born and reared in the atmosphere of the South, where cotton is king. Add three-fourths of this crop is exported to foreign countries where it is sold and other products from the cheap labor of the European countries are purchased in return. No wonder they in the South are in favor of free trade. What do they care about the northern manufacturers or protection as long as they dispose of their principal products and purchase their supplies from Europe at a very cheap price? But the South is beginning to realize the fallacy of free trade."

The speaker in detail explained how the congressmen from the southern states fought for protective tariff on sugar and of the scenes that accompanied the fight.

"Why is it that the South rules the Democratic party? I cannot understand and I am not supposed to, why most of the important committees are made up from Southern congressmen. The South is in absolute control of the government today. A new committee in the House was created this year, known as the committee on food control and a gentleman from Mississippi was appointed chairman. I know of but two other committees, the chairmen of which are not Democrats from the South."

Senator Stone, leader in the senate, commenting upon the policy of President Wilson the other day said upon the floor of the senate, that if his program in foreign affairs was followed, it would plunge this country headlong into war.

Senator Gore openly accused him of saying in a conference that the American people desired war with Germany. He is a good Democrat and would be careful of what he said. That statement started by Senator Gore has not yet been challenged by anyone except the president. Senator Stone and Senator Kerns, who were present only said that Senator Gore had not used the exact language of the president.

"Senator Stone has written a letter, which is now historical to the president, in which he says several interesting things. I believe that I remember a portion of the letter. It says: 'Since having my conference with you, I have been troubled as I have never been troubled before.' Further along: 'I do not believe the American people want war with Germany.' What did Senator Stone mean if the president had not said that the American people wanted war with Germany?"

"Whatever my duty may be, and whatever action I take, you may be assured that it comes from an honest heart. If I happen to believe that the American people do not want war with Germany, I am not the same right to vote my sentiments? Whether or not, I am going to exercise what I believe my prerogative."

"I believe, gentlemen, that an American's rights should be protected by his country, but there is a difference in the interpretation of rights? Has the man who goes out on the sea well knowing his danger to get the thrills of passing through the war zones, the same right to be protected as the man who went into Mexico at the invitation of the Mexican government to establish a home. Had this American who went into Mexico with his wife and perhaps his family a right to believe that the American flag would follow him into the depths and surround him with the security of the great country? After this man had gone into Mexico and spent perhaps the best years of his life establishing a home and making his fortune, he is forced to abandon all: Revolution after revolution: stirred the country and finally the administration tells these American people to get out that they have no business there. Gentlemen, they had a right there."

"Lives Mean More Than Cotton"

"To my mind, a bale of cotton floating in a trackless sea is nothing compared with eighteen men lined up along a stone wall and shot to death because they are Americans because American blood courses through their veins. This is what the administration says to the Americans in Mexico: 'If you don't like your treatment, get out!' But do they say the same thing to the American who is traveling on the armed vessels of the belligerent countries?"

"I don't doubt the president's honesty and I cannot challenge his patriotism. He has entertained views, a great many of which cannot be accepted by congress."

"Understand I am not complaining, but I never heard the rebel yell before until I entered congress and since then I have heard it so often that I believe I could repeat it perfectly. Every time the president appears in the house he is greeted with a rebel yell. I am not complaining," said Congressman Kearns, with a hand outstretched and pointing to several veterans of the great civil war, "but when I see you who are here tonight wearing that little bronze button on your coat, I remember that it was you who with great feeling touched the keynote on that great organ in the bloody days of the sixties which gave forth the grand anthem of liberty and union and went rolling and reverberating down through the mountains and swamps of the southland until it put everything in perfect accordance with its harmony. I wonder what you think of the rebel yell greeting the president in congress?"

"I do not like for a man to walk down an aisle to the dividing line between the minority and the majority and point his finger at me and question my patriotism. I had always believed that Jeff Davis was a traitor and was guilty of treason but somehow this belief would be materially changed if you were to believe the things the southern congressmen say. Understand I am not criticizing, I am only observing. I have learned many things since I came to congress."

"I remember one man walking down the aisle to the line of the minority and pointing his finger saying: 'It is a disgrace to the memory of Davis and Lincoln.'"

"In concluding, I want to say that while I am in congress I want to do the things the people of my district and the country at large want me to do. I cannot well represent my district without taking into consideration the views of the country at large."

"I will do everything in my power to keep this country out of war. I do not believe that there is a single family in Portsmouth who has a single one to sacrifice upon the bloody fields of carnage."

Says Some Want War To Continue

"Somehow, I cannot help but believe that there are certain manufacturers who desire that the war continue. I believe that the manufacturers in the east want war to come. I can tell you why: Every small hamlet in the east is practically filled with manufacturers busy making supplies for the European countries. And you can tell this when the congressmen of the eastern district vote. They show that the people in their district want the war to continue. Then they readily believe that Americans should be allowed to travel upon armed ships carrying munitions of war for it is one of the cheapest forms of insurance. The American's presence is practically a guarantee of a safe voyage."

There are classes in this country that want to see one side win and there are others that desire to see the other side win, but if the test comes, they will all be Americans first, even to the foreign born. There are those, if you remember, who purchased the half billion war loan which was floated in this country a few months ago. They are wanting a certain side to win. I notice by the recent market reports that these bonds are selling for ninety-four cents on a dollar and if the war lasts another year they will be selling for forty cents on the dollar, and if a certain side wins they will not be worth five cents on a dollar. So you can see that there are elements interested in both sides of the war."

"I do not care what side wins. I only hope that we pass through it and tend strictly to our own business."

Senator Tremper with his usually characteristic humor announced that the speech of Congressman Kearns concluded the program but urged that everyone stay and hear the election returns. He said the club had reached the nine hundred mark and was growing like a European war debt."

Peerless Beauty Kitty Gordon At The Lyric Today In Phillips' Great Novel, "As In A Looking Glass."

More prettiness is so common to the screen as to attract no special attention, but beauty, ravishing in its perfection of features and figure, is more than unusual on the screen, stage or in real life. At the Lyric today, Miss Kitty Gordon will make her first screen appearance in the World Film Corporation's big production of "As in a Looking Glass," and the patrons of this theatre may come confident that they are to see the most perfect photographic visualization of unparalleled beauty ever filmed.

For many years Miss Gordon has been known as one of the few real beauties of the stage. But there are many types of beauty, and of these there are few that survive the inexorable eye of the motion picture camera and re-appear on the screen without losing some of their points of charm. Miss Gordon, however, has proved to be so perfectly adapted to motion-picture requirements that her appearance on the screen is one of ravishing, intoxicating loveliness. So perfect in face and figure does this noted British beauty appear in her first picture that her management enthusiastically proclaims its belief that motion-picture patrons throughout the world will instantaneously receive her as the "loveliest woman on the screen."

In the story of "As in a Looking Glass," which deals with diplomatic intrigue, Miss Gordon has a role that gives her exceptional opportunities to display her emotional dramatic gifts. In addition the exigencies of the plot give the star full scope as to costume, with the result that she appears in the most marvelous array of gowns and hats ever seen in a film production.

"Graft" At The Arcana Today

"The Patent Medicine Dangers" is the title of No. 15 of "Graft," Robert Harding appears as the hero again in this episode. He gets after the makers of fake drugs, is committted to an insane asylum by his enemies and makes a sensational escape, aided by Dorothy and others. There is a real thrill in his jump from the roof of the institution to the stream below. This number is very tense in interest. The picture has taken so well that four or five more installments are being made.

"In the Heart of a Shell," is a Rex drama featuring Baby Early and Elsie Albert. A little girl on a beach has a dream in which a good fairy stems out of a shell. This leads to the child's discovery of a lost diamond ring. "The House House" is a two part Imp drama, followed by "Uncle Sam at Work," No. 11, Powers educational film.

Indications point to a splendid attendance at the reception to be tendered the new members at the First Christian church this (Wednesday) evening. The good women of the church will spend most of today baking big layer cakes, while the Men's Union will see to it that plenty of brick ice cream will be ready for distribution. President C. I. Cheyney, of the Men's Union, has the program in charge, and, needless to add, that he will bring forth the best available talent, so far as speech-making is concerned. Addresses will be made by Elders Walter Bagby and Gilbert F. Dodds, while, of course, Rev. Chas. R. Oakley will have something to say.

The reception committee will be composed of the members of the Christian Endeavor, who have planned some unique stunts for the occasion. All members who have united with the church since the first of the year will be accorded reserved seats—the best in the house. They will be given a cordial greeting and made to feel that they are thrice welcome into the ranks of the membership. Every member of the church is cordially invited to attend the reception. Come and help make the event one of the happiest occasions in the history of the church. Room for everybody and plenty to eat—in fact a general good time all around.

MAY SHORTEN WORK OF THE SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., April 26—An effort to facilitate the work of the supreme court, so that it might possibly dispose annually of all business before it is to be made at the present session of congress.

The first step in the proposed big reform has been taken by Senator Overman, of North Carolina, in introducing a bill, the effect of which, it is believed, would be to cut down the number of cases now going to the court as a matter of right one-fourth or one-third, the bill will be considered shortly by the senate judiciary committee.
